

Our Privacy Policy

AKDHA is strongly committed to maintaining your privacy.

The following text explains our policies on gathering information from visitors to the AKDHA website. AKDHA considers your use of this web site as consent to the information gathering policy.

Collection of Information: When you visit www.andreaskillian.com, your session may be tracked, including the date and time of your visit, the server IP address, and your Web browser type. Even though your session is tracked, the information is not personally identifiable. This anonymous information is used to help improve the Web site by determining the pages most frequently visited and the length of time spent on each page. None of this information is reviewed at an individual level.

Information You Supply: It is our policy that personal information, such as your name, postal, and email address or telephone number, is private and confidential. Any personal information you provide is accessible only by designated personnel and is used only for the purpose for which you provide the information. We do not sell, trade, exchange or otherwise make available any personally identifiable information to any other company or organization. Personal information will not be released to third parties unless release is required by law or is pertinent to judicial or governmental investigations or proceedings.

Use of Cookies: A "cookie" is a small text file created by a Web site and stored on your computer. AKDHA's only use of Cookies is to analyze the use of our website such as most active pages, etc. "Cookies" do not store any personal information, unless you personally provide the information while visiting the site. When a "cookie" is saved on your computer, only the Web site that created the "cookie" can read it.

If you are uncomfortable accepting "cookies," you can customize your privacy settings inside your browser to reject all "cookies". It will not affect the use of our website.

Third Party Sites: AKDHA is not responsible for the contents or accuracy of any linked site or any changes or updates to such sites. If you decide to access any of the third party sites, you do this entirely at your own risk.

Contacting AKDHA: About This Web Site If you have any questions or concerns about this Privacy Policy, please contact us.
