

"Having school spirit isn't something I try to do," says Roger Burns. "It just comes natural."

I've Got The Spirit
Senior, Denise Evans shows off her enthusiasm for the camera during the first pep rally.

Senior Spirit

Spirit and respect seem to increase over the years for your school. In your ninth grade year it was common to feel uncomfortable during pep rallies and other activities that required competition between Freshman and Seniors. "When I was in the ninth grade, I was scared that I wasn't going to see anybody I knew. I felt like a small fish in a big pond," stated Sophomore Jermaine Martin. Tenth and eleventh graders begin to feel a little more accepted over time and when you become a Senior, it's not a big deal at all. "Seniors always seem to have been in charge. It is no different every year that Seniors rule and there is no way of getting around it," jokes Shae Vandeford. When asked how she felt about being a Senior, Nannette Cardona replied, "It's better than I'd ever imagined. I'm glad it's my turn."

The senior class always tries to leave something behind to remember them by. Rather it be a plaque or a saying, they try to hold up to their end of the bargain. The seniors this year feel that even if they don't leave something tangible behind, they have the spirit that they uplifted in everyone to be remembered for. When asked the question, "Do You Got That Spirit?" in the pep rally, it was easy for me to answer "Oooh yeah," simply put Latrail Canty. Well, I guess we know the seniors have their spirit.