The varsit basketball team was ready to respond to the challenge whoe heartedly. They to were rebuilding from top to bottom and trying to get out of the shadows of dissapointing last season. With the new coach, Ezekiel Washington, the boys we ready for the "Quest for Victory". The team started practice as early as Augus They found it pretty easy just going over the basic fundamentals and the drills However, easy was not on Coach Washington's plan in reaching the top. As th season crept closer, the more intense the practices got. Detrick Roseborough said "Sometimes, it's like he's an animal. No mercy." But it all payed off as the team wo most of the scrimages by convincing margins, and then the season was on! The tear started out as just a team. They really had no identity. But with each game, they say their enormous depth and potential and began to develop "team chemistry". Th team was, however, plagued by injuries to key players. Coach Washington said "The nagging foot problems of Corey Milton and James Walker slowed down ou progress. The season ending injury to Trevor Mitchell didn't help either." All in all the team pulled through. Coach Washington said, "Our season was no fairy tale, bu I'm really proud of the improvements and the players that stepped up." The Griffin season was a success if measured by team work and improvements. The season should be even better next year.
