

Senior Adam Swearingen delivers the Salutatory speech to the class of 1999.

Saluditorian
Adam Swearingen

Graduation

Below: "Let us pray." The class of 1999 bows to pray.

On June 4, the 1999 graduates of Fairfield Central High School said their final farewells at E.K. McLendon Stadium. During the ceremony, the soon-to-be graduates eagerly waited to receive their diplomas. To their astonishment they had to wait to get their diplomas after the ceremony. The students were fired up and ready to party, not really knowing what was in store for their future.

All in all, the graduates were excited about the night that had come and gone. Now it is time to think about the college they are going to, the job they want and the future that lies ahead. For sure spreading their wings and flying was all what was in store for them.

Gwynette Lemon