DeNova 2000

The year 2000 has finally come! It seems so unreal. Some will be saying good-bye to this school, a place that has become a home for four years; while others are just starting out on this journey that some call life. As this book begins, open your heart and take in what it has to offer. Whether a senior, junior, sophomore, or freshman these memories will touch your heart and mind. As life after Fairfield Central begins remember the lessons that this school has taught.

"Rising above the limits" is the theme, but do you really know what that means? It states that no matter the person, one can rise above all expectations that society has set for them, whatever the case may be. Take the lessons that have been taught at Fairfield Central High School, as well as those from friends, teachers, and family, and run with them. Don't ever let them leave your mind.

LaFrances Grier

Kendra Bouknight, Kolisa Willingham, and Tabbitha Caldwell go beyond what is expected of them as they open up their minds. They are Rising Above The Limits as others who will walk through these Griffin doors.

No matter the color of your skin there will always be a limit that someone sets just for you.

You know in your heart that you will be able to achieve all of your dreams and make them come true.

RISE ABOVE THE LIMITS.

Knowing in your heart that you are able to reach all the stars.

Knowing that you will make it as a person by far.

RISE ABOVE THE LIMITS.

Take all the lessons that you have learned from this place

So that you may be able to endure your life long race.

RISE ABOVE THE LIMITS.

No matter where you go in life there will always be expectations of you,

But you will know in your heart that one thing will stand to be true;

The fact that no matter where you go or what you do you should always

RISE ABOVE THE LIMITS

A Typical Griffin Day: Before School

As early as 7:00, students can be found socializing with their friends in front of the school. Cherie Evans arrives at Fairfield Central by 7:20 every morning because her car pool must be at work by 8:00 in a far away town. More students arrive as the time before school begins to wind down and it gets closer to 8:00. Even this early in the morning, it is very evident as to whom belongs to which group of friends. Before entering the school, students are tucking in their shirts, putting on their IDs, and removing any caps they are wearing. While awaiting the hallway doors to open, students gather on the concourse to continue talking about the events that happened the day before and the activities they have planned for that day.

Room 224

“Room 224! Room 224!” That’s what students hear while running down the hallways in order to beat the tardy bell. When students are late to class or to school they must report to room 224, the Attendance Office. Students must stay in this room until the bell rings to change classes. Ms. Broome assigns all students in this room two working lunches. Some students feel that the consequences of receiving the first tardy are fierce. Freshman Meagan LaRose says, “The first time you are late you should not get anything because you can’t expect us to be perfect. Then maybe the second time you should get one working lunch.” And, for those who decide not to serve the working lunches, there is always Saturday Academy. So don’t be caught in room 224.

A Typical Griffin Day: After School

After a long day of school work, it is a time to exhale and chat with friends . Students can be seen in the parking lot and in front of the school discussing the days events and what they will be doing that evening. Senior Tameka Pauling says, "I like to socialize with my friends and go to club meetings. After school I also go to work." There are also many after school activities that keep students occupied, such as band, student government, sports , yearbook, and jobs. Many students are seen trailing off to Sonic, Bi-Lo, Wal-Mart, and Captain's Galley to make some extra money.

Griffin Football

What's the most popular game of the year? And, what's the game that keeps the crowd screaming and on the edge of their seats? FOOTBALL! It happens every Friday in the fall. Griffin football fans wait anxiously in line for their tickets; while other fans, with their season passes, go hurriedly through the Griffin gates. The Griffin band and cheerleaders entertain the roaring crowd by displaying their moves in the stands as the football team shows their determination to win the battle on the field. The football players run onto the field with one main question at hand: "Who is it gonna be, you or me?"

As the water gleamed from the waterfalls, and the stars sparkled on the walls, anxious students arrived and were completely mesmerized by the gymnasium's beauty. Indeed they knew this would be "One Moment In Time" they would surely remember. For some it was a night of romance and love; for others it was a time to have fun with their friends. As the music played, students began to make their way to the dance floor. Some danced with their dates, while others danced in large groups. Slow dances were also shared among many. Everyone seemed to be enjoying themselves. Sadly, the night did have to end. For seniors it was one of the last times to have that special dance with their high school sweetheart and to fellowship with friends.

Class Night 1999

Every year about a week before graduation the seniors all march into the auditorium to get the recognition they deserve. Yes this is Class Night. Though for some seniors this is a time to see other classmates get awards and scholarships. Class Night is a memorable experience for the seniors because with the exception of graduation this is probably the last time they will all be together. It is truly a night to remember.

Graduation

On June 4, the 1999 graduates of Fairfield Central High School said their final farewells at E.K. McLendon Stadium. During the ceremony, the soon-to-be graduates eagerly waited to receive their diplomas. To their astonishment they had to wait to get their diplomas after the ceremony. The students were fired up and ready to party, not really knowing what was in store for their future.

All in all, the graduates were excited about the night that had come and gone. Now it is time to think about the college they are going to, the job they want and the future that lies ahead. For sure spreading their wings and flying was all what was in store for them.

Spirit Week '99

Spirit Week 1999

September 27 through October 1, 1999 was Spirit Week for Fairfield Central High School. Spirit Week is the week of the Homecoming game. During this time, students displayed their spirit by dressing for the occasion, and some even went to the extent of decorating their faces. Monday was Tacky Day for the school. Students showed how tacky they could be by wearing their clothes inside out, clashing socks, shoes, and other apparel. Some wore their hair in very shabby ways and often received laughs strolling through the halls between classes. On Tuesday, students dressed in camouflage and wore hats. More students participated in this day than any other day of the week. Wednesday was School Color Day. Students showed their zeal by dressing in school colors, colored their hair, and some even painted their faces. Thursday was the most interesting day. It was labeled as Generation Day. This was when Freshmen dressed as babies, Sophomores dressed as toddlers, Juniors dressed as business people, Seniors dressed as senior citizens, and the teachers dressed as they were dead. Some teachers showed their creativity, "cheating death," by dressing as angels. Friday was the last chance that students had before the Homecoming game to show their zeal. This day was classified as Class Color Day. The classes competed against each other and showed how much spirit their class had. Freshmen wore black, Sophomores wore red, Juniors wore white t-shirts and blue jeans, and Seniors wore blue. Spirit week was a time of fun, laughter, and the opportunity for students to show their zeal.

Homecoming 1999

Spirit Week 1999 culminated with the 1999 Homecoming Game, which pitted the visiting A.C. Flora Falcons against the Griffins. Of course, the Griffins dominated the game, however that was only a small portion of the night's festivities.

Half-time featured a recognition of the week's activities. All of the Spirit Week winners were announced, as well as the most spirited class. Finally, all of the Miss Homecoming 1999 candidates were introduced and escorted on the field, thanks to Col. King and the JROTC cadets of FCHS. Spirit Week '99 officially concluded with the presentation of tiarra and flowers to Miss Homecoming 1999 by our principal, Mr. David Corley.

Miss FCHS Pageant is an annual event held in the FCHS auditorium. With 26 contestants in all; only one would come out as Miss FCHS.

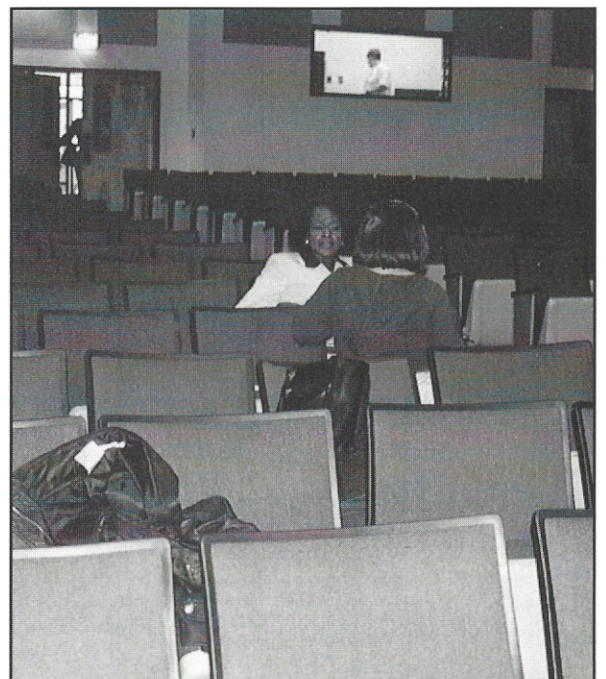

The lucky winner of Miss FCHS for the 1999-2000 school year is Ms. Lakeisha Cunningham. Lakeisha was also Miss Scholarship 1999. There was approximately $3,000 dollars raised for the scholarship fund. Miss Scholarship and all of the senior contestants will receive a scholarship. The pageant took one week for the ladies to prepare for. It took countless hours on behalf of the pageant committee and student government to prepare for it. The whole pageant came off without a problem and it was a wonderful experience that will not be soon forgotten by the girls and the people who saw it.

Coming Home

Above: Arthur Price passes the ball off in a Coming Home victory over the Chester Cyclones.

The 1999-2000 Griffin Basketball season featured a new twist. Inspired by the Student Government Association, a "Spirit Week" was planned for the week prior to the Chester game. Much like the week of Homecoming in the fall, each day had a theme, giving students a chance to exhibit their school spirit. The week included "Farmer Day", "Clique Day" and the traditional "Class Colors Day."

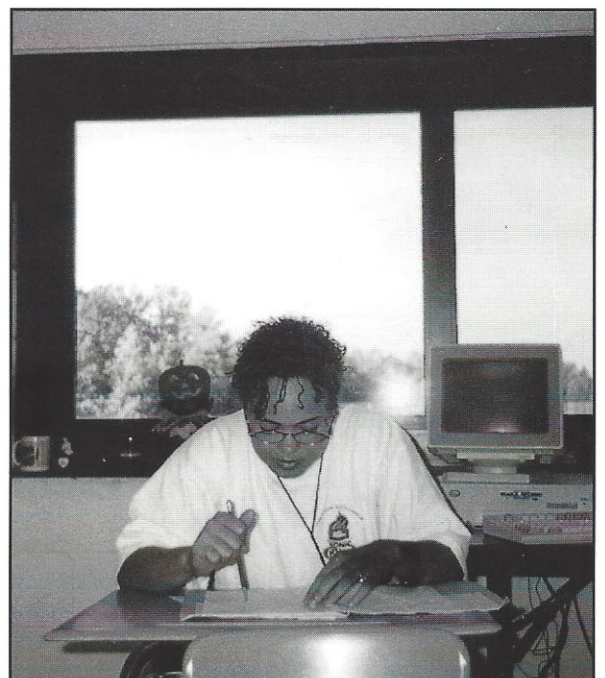

In conjunction with Coming Home Week, a Coming Home King and Queen were selected from the seniors on the boys and girls basketball teams. Candidates for the title lobbied students the entire week, even filming a short video shown to all students at the end of the day. In the end, Beatrix Trapp was selected as the Coming Home Queen 2000 and Rontarious Brown was selected as the Coming Home King 2000.

In all, the week was a tremendous success and everyone involved believes a tradition has been established for future Griffins to enjoy.

Internet Buddies

A common question heard by computer teachers and media specialists is: "When are we getting on the Internet?" The Internet is becoming an important pastime for many students. Students rush to log onto the World Wide Web to check their email accounts, meet new friends and mates, complete homework assignments and other various activities.

Whether through emails or instant messages, students can communicate with others from around the world. Teachers are also beginning to incorporate the Internet more into their curriculum, giving the students a truly "worldly" experience.

G. Lemon, W. Ulch, M. Leach

English

The English department here at Fairfield Central High School is dedicated to teach each student about the world. English can help you advance in college and communication. It enhances listening skills and the ability to speak well.

The goal of the English Department is to implement the program through a variety of resources. The second goal is to creatively communicate and to culturally participate in their environment.

As students go through their four years of English, we hope that they will be able to communicate better. English will also help you become a better person in the future.

Mathematics

Do you find mathematics to be important? Many students do not feel that math is an important subject, however math provides students with basic skills they will use for the rest of their lives. The Math Department at Fairfield Central High School provides students with the mathematical knowledge necessary to enter college and technical schools or to survive in the adult world.

Classes such as Algebra I, Algebra II, Algebra III, Calculus, Statistics and Probability and Graphic Calculators are some the classes that will provide students with the mathematical background they will need later in life. Math for Technology courses are taught for those going to technical schools.

Teachers in the Math Department work hard to provide students with the necessary skills and knowledge they will need in their adult lives. Some of the teachers stay after school regularly to ensure that all students can succeed in math!

Science

The thoughts of experimenting with chemicals and other things are a great thought to most of Fairfield Central High School students. The science courses are Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Physical Science. The credits that are needed to graduate for some are two and some are three. These courses maybe even be needed to enter some colleges which the students will also need to think about when making out their schedules for the up and coming school year.

The courses are challenging to the mind and also unpredictable to the student entering the classes. The students have lab days setup for them to experiment with certain things that they were unaware of them being able to do. That also gives them access to things that they are not able to go out and buy because the chemicals are trusted in today's society.

Social Studies

When many students hear the words “Social Studies”, they think of boring lectures and reading assignments. Others wonder “Will I ever need this in life?” The obvious answer is, Yes! At Fairfield Central High School, the Social Studies Department offers a wide variety of courses from history and government to economics and Teacher Cadets.

The Social Studies courses at Fairfield Central High School are designed to not only teach students about the past, but also to prepare them for the future. Ms. Sarah Chiles, the department chair, says “History is very important. Even if you don’t realize it now, you need a good understanding of history now and in the future!”

Many historians are quick to point out that history repeats itself. Those who ignore history are doomed to repeat it. With a broad background in social studies, the students of Fairfield Central High School are well prepared for the future.

Foreign Language

Foreign Language is a very important part of the high school experience. By studying foreign languages, students learn about different languages, different countries and different cultures. The foreign language courses taught at Fairfield Central offer students a window to the world.

Through foreign language courses, students not only learn how to speak Spanish or French, but they also learn about life in the countries where these languages are spoken. Students can expect to learn of food, music and customs from many different countries throughout the world. Students in foreign language classes frequently listen to popular music from the different countries they are studying. Often, students see, first hand, the many differences between life in the United States and throughout the rest of the world.

Foreign language students learn inside the classroom, but often they participate in foreign language studies outside of the classroom. Many of these students participate in either the Spanish or French clubs, which are designed to bring awareness to different customs and cultures.

JROTC

Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps, JROTC, is a great program to be part of. The program at Fairfield Central JROTC is elite compared to other school's programs. The program itself stands like a brick wall supporting its own-self; the students control the bulk of the JROTC functions by giving individuals leadership positions. This opportunity for leadership is given because of the Chain of Command. The average cadet by the end of his four-year tenure in JROTC acquires such personality traits as valor and cunning wit. This program is very much a learning experience, making the cadet self-sufficient.

Alan Ulch

Col. King

Lieutenant Colonel King, the Senior Army Instructor for the JROTC program, is the reigning teacher of the year for Fairfield Central High School. This title earned by Colonel King was not handed to him; he earned the award, of great prestige, not only with his superior teaching abilities but also with his ability to keep his class tamed. "I respect Colonel King because of how stern he is while still keeping his compassion and understanding of the student," one said of King. Colonel King controls an intricate system that allows his cadets to govern themselves within a chain of command. Many of King's cadets look upon him as a role model. King looks after all the cadets that want to learn and participate in his class. Colonel King has well deserved the award presented to him because he fits the awards criteria, being a great teacher as well as role model.

Music

From R&B and Jazz to Gospel, the Fairfield Central High School Chorus has shown many that not only are they talented, but they have class. Chorus students, through their skills, show that it takes hard work and practice to succeed. Throughout the 1999-2000 school year, the chorus has many events planned, which are known to be a success. Chorus member Willie Young said, "It takes hard work and lots of time." Instructor Gerard Peeples has shown students that practice makes perfect. When the chorus performs for the school, students cheer and clap because they are astonished at the excellent performance. Senior Kellee Robertson said, "I love when we have assemblies because I know that the chorus is going to do good." Without Chorus, students wouldn't be able to show off such great talents!

Along with performing half time shows at the football games, the Griffin Marching Band participates in local parades and competitions, and performs for the faculty and student body at Fairfield Central High and other schools in the district. To plan for their yearly band trip, the Griffin band participates in fundraisers such as selling calendars and fruit, performing at concerts, and sponsoring Band Alumni Night. They are the heart of Fairfield Central High. It is the spirit of the Griffin band that gets students hyped during Pep Rallies, football games, and other social events.

Physical Education

Physical Education

This year the Physical Education Department had a slight problem; they did not have enough teachers to service all the students in the department. This year there has been two new staff members added to the Physical Education department, Coach Seth Gilmer and Ms. Jennifer Bennet. Almost everyday students go into the gym to practice and learn the rules and techniques to play many different sports such as basketball, softball, and kickball. Freshman Felica Belton says, "It's fun. The teacher's straight and she's a person you could talk to." The students in P.E. also learn about Health Education. By working in groups and completing presentations, students learn about the dangers of drugs and alcohol and about nutrients in many types of food. Despite all obstacles the students learn more about themselves while having fun.

Art

Art is a universal language. Just about anywhere in the world you go you will encounter art. Art is the Mona Lisa, the Great Sphinx, the Grand Canyon and the Devil's Armchair. Students who enroll in Art classes at Fairfield Central High School will be exposed to all forms of great art.

This year the Art department enjoyed its largest enrollment in the past ten school years. This year Mr. Kinard has the students painting murals on the concourse and cafeteria walls, as well as displaying their paintings and drawings on the school's hallways. Each year Mr. Kinard sponsors an Art fair to show off the creative talent of his students. Also, several Fairfield Central students entered artwork in the State Fair Competition, with two of them receiving ribbons! Students enrolled in art classes will travel to art museums throughout the state for inspiration and education. In all, students learn about a wide variety of art and culture through exploration.

A. Hood and D. Ashford

Computer Science and Technology

The Computer Science class is a strenuous subject with all of the hard work paying off at the end of the year. For students in Introduction to Computer Programming, they are exposed to programming in the C++ language and other aspects of computer hardware and software. For the students in Advanced Placement Computer Science, they have the opportunity to take the AP Computer Science Exam, which could allow the students to receive a college credit for computer science. AP students must study the complete C++ programming structure and the Big Integer Case. Sophomore Tameka Gray says, "computer science is a hard class that requires a lot of time and effort in order to pass the class."

For those students who are not interested in programming computers, Mrs. Hope's keyboarding and computer technology classes are available. In these classes students learn about Microsoft Office products such as Word and Excel. They also receive some basic skills in typing and creating reports, presentations, and resumes.

The Media Center is a very important part of our school. For students, the library provides a vast selection of books, newspapers, and magazines for research and pleasure. Computers are also available for Internet research, typing papers, and online journal research. The Media Center provides teachers with overhead projectors, televisions, VCRs, calculators, and other equipment necessary for instruction.

From time to time the Media Center closes but not without good reason. Mrs. Beale and Mrs. Pickett attend teachers' classes to inform students of the library services, and do a complete overhaul to see what books and magazines should be ordered and are missing or lost, as well as update the computer systems. If they cannot be found sitting at the front desk, they are helping students with their research. There are also student volunteers available in the Media Center to assist students. Student volunteer Gwyenette Lemon states, "I check books in and out for students and also help them on the computers."

Guidance

In order to ensure the Guidance counselors are meeting the needs of the students, there is one counselor for each class and this counselor remains with those students until the class graduates. The freshman class reports to Mrs. Hollis, the sophomores to Mrs. Sharpe; Mrs. Chapman has the juniors, and the seniors are the responsibility of Mrs. Caughman. At Each year they attend all the English classes to inform students about the services available, testing results, registration, and graduation requirements. Students look for the counselors to help them with college applications and financial aid forms, peer mediation, drug abuse, and pregnancy prevention counseling, and test-taking skills and applications.

The Guidance Office also provides services to the faculty, staff, and other local organizations. In order to make their class environment a successful one, teachers seek the help from the counselors to provide them with students' test scores and previous grades, and schedule parent and teacher conferences. Also, they work with special services such as the Department of Juvenile Justice, Department of Social Services, Department of Youth, Mental Health, and Charter Rivers. Overall, without the help of the Guidance Department, the faculty, staff, and student body would be lost.

Cafeteria & Custodial Staff

Although the Cafeteria and Custodial staff's job may seem easy to some it is not at all. The Cafeteria staff must prepare lunch for over 500 students each day. They also open a store, The Canteen, in order to sell snacks and drinks to those students who do not eat the regular prepared lunch. Breakfast is also available to those who are unable to eat before coming to school.

The Custodial Staff are the first ones to arrive to school and the last ones to leave. Their service to school provides students and teachers with a clean and friendly work and learning environment. They are constantly seen picking up trash in front of the school and around the parking area, sweeping and vacuuming the concourse, and cleaning up after students who leave their trash on the cafeteria tables. They are often under-appreciated, however the school day would not run smoothly without all of their hard work.

New Teachers

Fairfield Central High School welcomes all of its new faculty, including some of its very own graduates. Mr. Hare and Ms. Harrison, new teachers for the 1999-2000 school year are graduates of Fairfield Central High School. Mr. Hare teaches English, while Ms. Harrison teaches Mathematics. The new science teachers are Ms. Cook and Mr. Shaw. Ms. Cook is the advisor of the Science club, and Coach Shaw helps with the Mighty Griffin football team. Mr. Hollis, Mr. Murray, Ms. Hill, and Mr. Tayadon are a welcomed addition to the mathematics department. Along with Mr. Hare, the English department has greatly appreciated the services of Mrs. S. Jones and Ms. Thomas, who came in the middle of the first nine weeks. Ms. Brown, the new French teacher, is also welcomed by the Foreign language department. Coach Gilmer and Coach Bennett both teach physical education and health. Both are head coaches--Coach Gilmer has the varsity boy's basketball team and Bennett has the volleyball team.

Mrs. Hope, who replaced Mrs. Green as a computer and technology teacher, comes to Fairfield Central from Rock Hill. When asked about how she feels about the school, Hope replied, "Fairfield Central is a great school with lots of administrator, staff, student and community support." Judging by Mrs. Hope's comments, the school has all the ingredients for a good recipe. Mrs. Hope feels blessed and grateful about working at Fairfield Central because she is able to work in the area in which she was trained.

The Fairfield Central High School office staff includes some new recruits and volunteers. This department is the backbone of the school. Not only must they answer telephones and take messages, but they handle all outgoing and incoming mail, provide substitutes for those teachers not present, handle requests from administrators and teachers, and help parents and students with early dismissals, late arrivals, and teacher visitations. Without the help of these dedicated people, Fairfield Central High School would collapse.

T. Pauling, G. Lemon

Administration

Although the school lost two administrators last year, Fairfield Central High bounced back by replacing them with administrators who are new to the school but not to Fairfield County. With help from the administration, our school performs like a well-oiled machine. The lunch lines move with ease, the hallways clear before the tardy bell rings, and everyone is dressed according to the dress code. The administration has made Fairfield Central a safer place by installing cameras and providing the students with a great learning environment.

Every Monday, teachers and administrators meet to review school policies and address concerns of the school. The administrators sit in classes reviewing the teachers performance and check for identification on the students. The administrators work with the club sponsors to decide meeting times and budgets and approve the organization's fundraisers and extracurricular activities.

Junior Achievement

Junior Achievement is an interesting mix of club and class. The purpose of Junior Achievement is to teach students about the demand side of economics. The students start a company and run it throughout a semester. Students apply for certain positions from President/CEO to production worker. The company then chooses which products to make and sell. Stock in the company is also sold. The stock sold is held until the company is liquidated. After this occurs, dividends are paid to stock holders and employees. Keisha Willingham comments "Junior Achievement helps me in the real world. Since I plan to run my own business in this community, I can apply the concepts learned in JA to my business." Mr. William Martin is the club advisor.

Student Government Association president Kevin Johnson presides over a meeting while senior class president Tamekia Bell listens attentively.

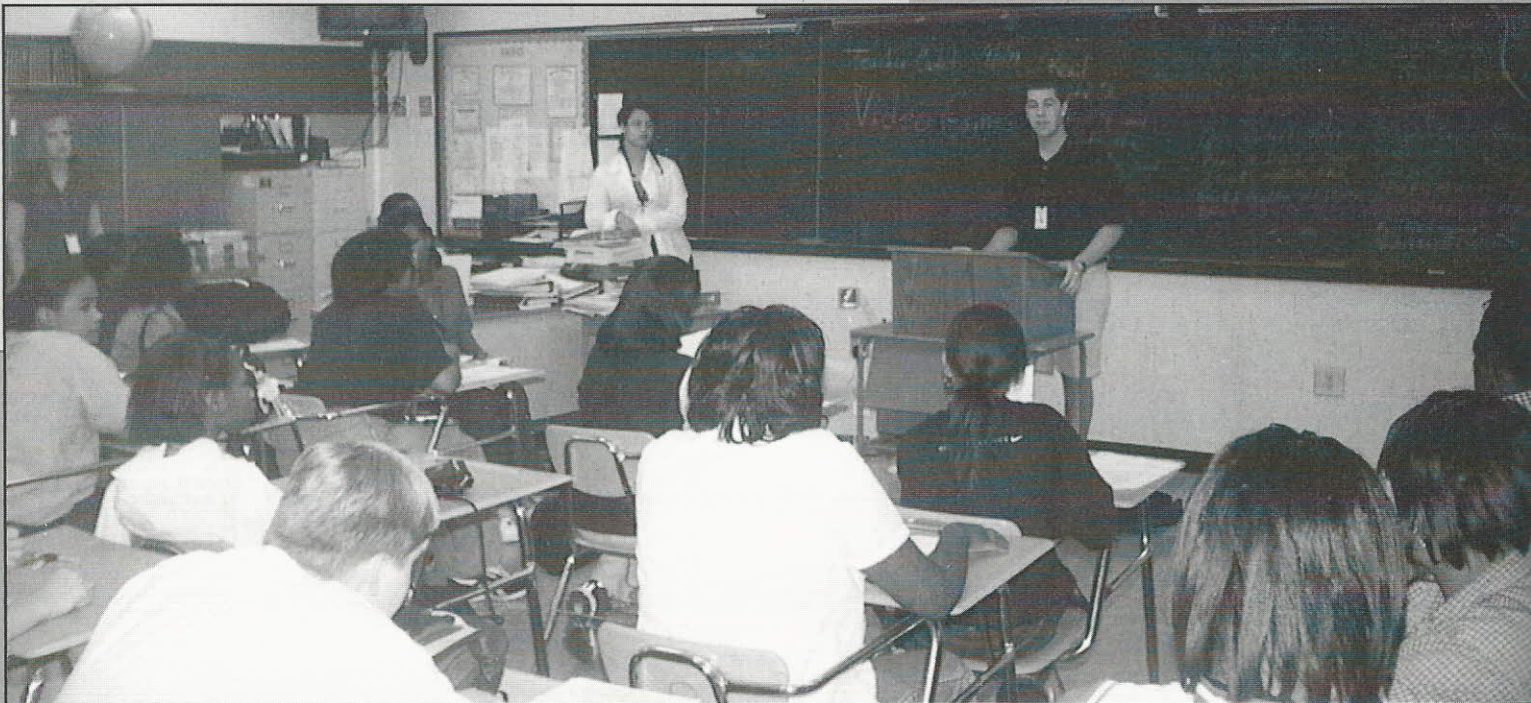

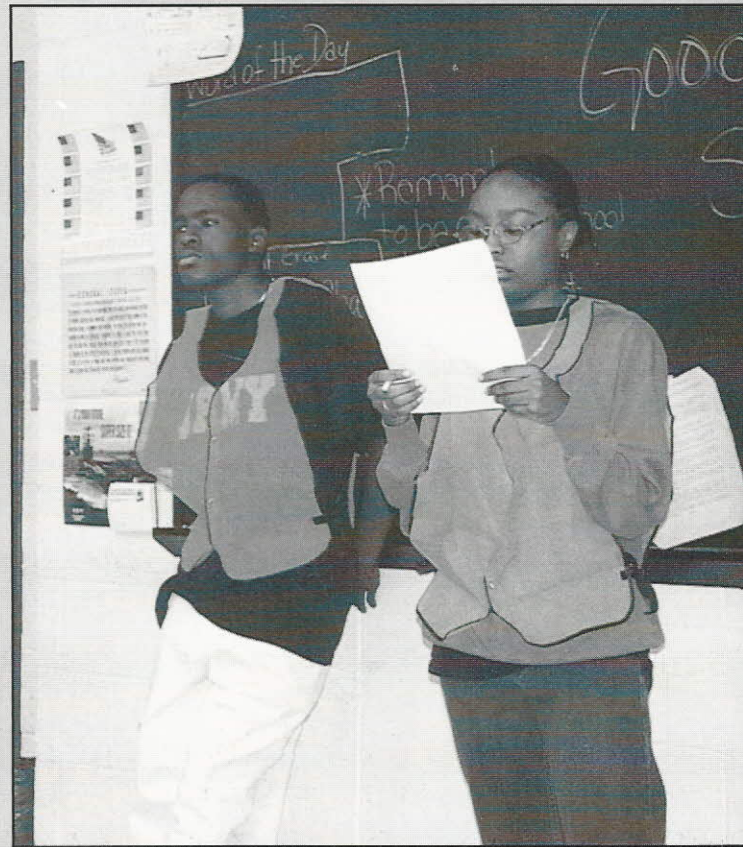

SGA, Student Government Association, is a wonderful association; it allows the students to get involved with their school, even if they are not elected into office. To become a member in student government, you can either be elected or show up and be a representative for the school. The student government does a variety of different things for the community such as holds can food drives, have visits to sick children in the Cancer Center and the Children's Life Center, participates in the March of Dimes and the Red Cross Blood Drive. Student government not only does things for their community but also sponsors activities within the school; the activities range from Home Coming to The Gold Star Prom. Student Government is very prosperous and generous organization and teaches many values a student needs later in life.

Debate Club

The Debate Club is a club organized to teach students the art of debate. Students learn to argue in a respectful manner, as well as seeing two points of view instead of just their own. Students are encouraged to express their own ideas and challenge the ideas of others. Debating prepares students for the real world and shapes them into being successful citizens in an ever-changing society.

The Debate Team attended a competition at West Charlotte Senior High School. The team also participated in various events around the school, including those dealing with poetry. The team also conducted a Lincoln-Douglas Debate re-enactment and discusses different views on politics.

The Social Studies Club sponsored a can food drive for Thanksgiving. For Christmas, they participated in putting up the Angel Tree and collecting the gifts. The Social Studies Club also took part in the preparation for the Black History Month program. Throughout the year, this organization was very active in serving the less fortunate.

Sports Club

The Sports Club is a club designed for students who enjoy participating in and watching sports. Students do not have to be an athlete at Fairfield Central to participate in the club, as it is open to all sports lovers at FCHS. The main goal of the club is to enjoy sports on all levels.

The club participated in many activities throughout the year. One of the most exciting aspects of the club was the trips to college basketball games, baseball games and professional sporting events. Club members also participated in playing various sports such as basketball, flag football, softball and frisbee golf. And of course, one of the club's main goals is to support Fairfield Central Griffins at all times!

The DeNova Club is an organization established to create the yearbook. Staff members must organize and place things in layout form for it to become complete. Students decide on story ideas and then write about them. In addition, students deal with all of the photographs and advertisements.

There are many details to be covered and deadlines to be met during the production of the yearbook. The DeNova Club is designed to work together to produce the best possible yearbook for Fairfield Central High School. As always, the staff put a great deal of hard work and dedication to the production of this year's book.

Future Business Leaders of America

The FBLA stands for Future Business Leaders of America. Among the many requirements to be in the club are to sign up for various computer and business classes at the Fairfield County Career Center (FCCC). As some may know, these classes are intended for learning as much about computers as possible. The FCCC received 64 brand new Compaq computers including 24 zip disk, and a great deal of software. These programs, including Timed Writings, are all provided to help students improve their typing and other computer skills. FBLA students also help out businesses once a week starting in the second semester. FBLA has sponsored a food drive for Christmas. In January State, district, and national competitions will start. This year's officers for FBLA are: Mrs. Blackwelder as the advisor; Maurice Belton as president; Derrick Belton as vice president; Latecia Chappelle as the reporter; and Lawanda Turner as secretary.

The Rotary Club provides constant mentoring, offering guidance and support. The Interact Club forms a partnership with the Rotarians, often helping the Rotary Club with their projects as well.

The Interact Club has a variety of projects every year. One of the projects they did was "Trick or Canning", where students ventured out into the community to collect non-perishable items for donation. The Interact Club also assisted with the Mothers Against Drunk Drivers' "Red Ribbon" campaign. Santa and Easter trains was another project with which they were assisting.

Reading Club

The Reading Club is a small club for students interested in reading. The purpose of the club is to encourage more students to read outside of their schoolwork. The club serves as a reason for students to meet and select books to read, usually novels. When they are all finished reading the novels, they gather for a group discussion. The first novel read by the group this year was To Kill a Mocking Bird.

The club has plans to support reading in other schools by having book drives throughout the year. The books they receive from these drives will be given to elementary school children throughout the district and community. Overall, the Reading Club is a wonderful club for students to join for reading and community service.

Below: Mr. Danny Miller speaks to the members of Teen Institute before venturing out into downtown Atlanta on a recent field trip.

The Teen Institute is a club for young adults in the middle school or high school. Throughout the year, the club plans and implements alcohol and other drug abuse programs throughout the community. It is designed to teach students how to effectively create alcohol and drug abuse prevention programs that appeal to the senses of other students and their community. Members are committed to serving this goal in many ways throughout the year.

While there is much work involved with Teen Institute, the members also have a good team while accomplishing their goals. Through the interaction in the club and with other students, they increase their knowledge and help to give all students alternatives to using drugs and alcohol. The Teen Institute influences everyone to “Just Say No!”

Distributive Education Clubs of America

Distributive Education Club of America is an exciting club at the Fairfield Career Center, dealing with Marketing and Business Education.

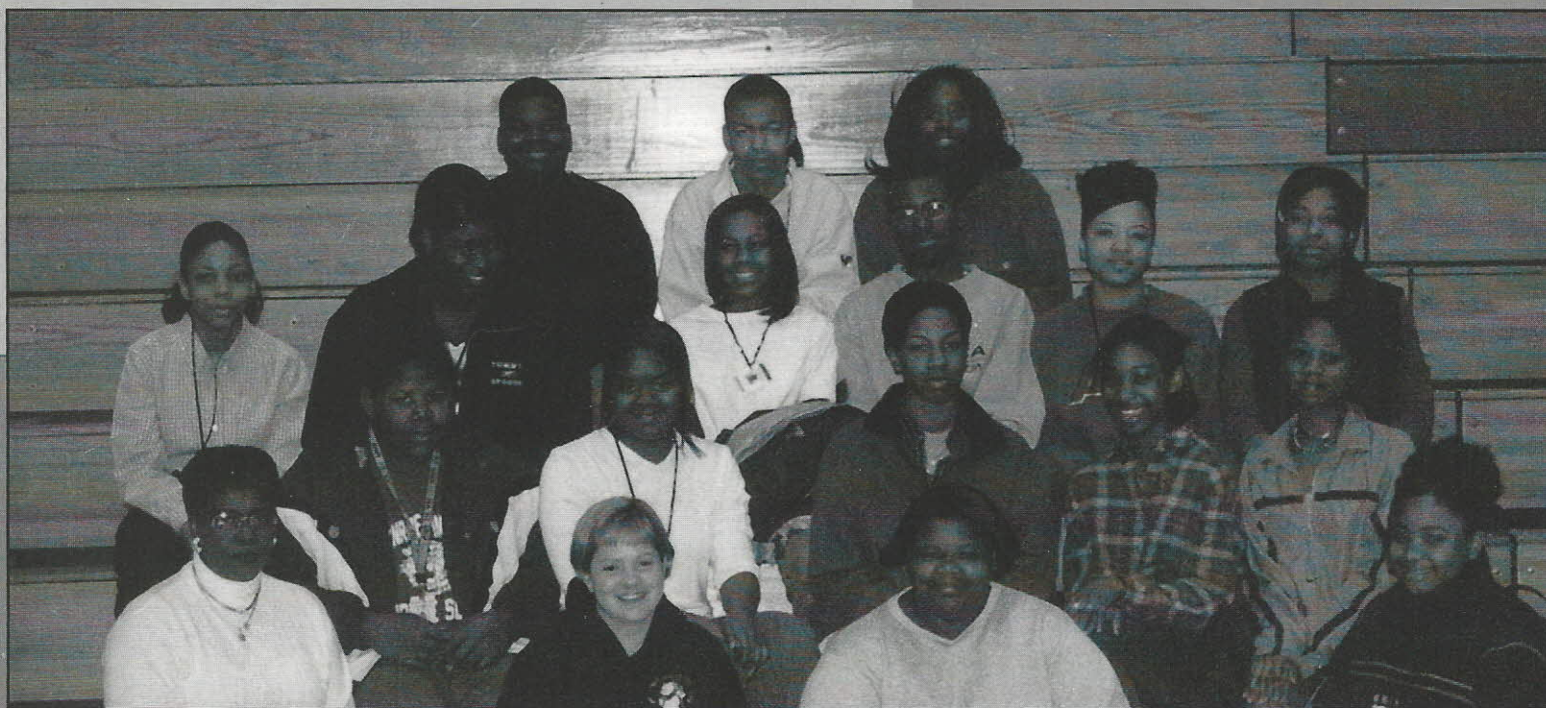

The Career Center students enjoyed learning about marketing education from many different teachers throughout the year, including club advisor, Mrs. Sondra Pearson. In DECA, students learn about business, interviewing for jobs, communication skills, as well as management skills. Students compete with other groups throughout the state and country. Above all, the club promotes unity. Mrs. Pearson stresses through everything that in business, a group must work as one to achieve goals.

DECA students prepare for a future in which they will be the leaders in the business world. With the skills and lessons learned, DECA students will be prepared to accomplish all of their goals in the business world.

Health Occupations Students of America says it all. HOSA is a club designed to bring together students who plan on working in the health occupations after they have completed school. Organized through the Fairfield Career Center, HOSA meets regularly throughout the county, practicing their healthcare skills.

HOSA's activities are not confined to the county, however. The Fairfield Career Center walked away with the most first, second and third place ribbons at the 1999 HOSA District Competition. The club later went on victory at the 1999 HOSA State Competition. That victory enabled the group to travel to Nashville, Tennessee to compete in the National Competition at the Opryland Hotel. Advised by Mrs. Diane Melton, who later left to pursue other nursing-related jobs, the group performed very well.

Chorus

Under the direction of Mr. Gerard Peeples, the Fairfield Central Chorus continues to show students that “perfect pitch” is not found on a baseball or softball field. The Chorus is a club formed to give students a place to learn and practice many different vocal techniques. While many of the students in the club are enrolled in the Chorus Class, the club is open to any student who has a desire to sing and be heard.

The Chorus participates in many activities throughout the school. From the Red Ribbon Week program to the Holiday Music Festival, the Chorus is always ready to lend a hand, and a voice, to promote Griffin Spirit.

The Prom Committee is a group of juniors selected by their English teachers. The purpose of this club is to ensure that each year’s Junior-Senior Prom will be the best and this year was no exception. Advised by Mrs. M. L. Leach, the students work throughout the year to make the evening a big success. Among their many activities, students select the theme for the prom, plan the menu, select a DJ, and raise funds to help defray the cost of the evening for all students.

Band

The Golden Griffin Band is one of the most popular features of a Fall Friday night in Winnsboro. While the band generally performs to a delighted crowd, there is much work and sacrifice which goes into a successful year of Griffin Music. Students and staff work throughout the summer and school year to provide audiences with the best possible show.

Marching is not the only specialty of the Griffin Band, though! Each year the band performs a sit-down concert featuring classical and contemporary music.

Under the direction of Mr. Raymond Mazyck, the band traveled to Chicago, Illinois in the Spring of 1999. As usual, the band returned home with many awards and honors.

It provides education about the effects and consequences of violence and helps provides safe extracurricular activities for students, parents, and the community. Open to all students who want to support an attitude of nonviolence, the organization is designed to have regular meeting for members to learn about alternatives to violence and to promote its message to other schools and throughout the community members can become skilled in peer mediation and conflict resolution.

S.A.V.E. promotes the virtues of peace, civility and nonviolence through compassion by helping students of all ages learn how to respect themselves and other people conversation plays a big role in S.A.V.E.

The National Beta Club Organization has been around since Winnsboro High in the 1930's. This year the club had three directors: Mrs. Donna Boulware, Mrs. CB Smith, and Mrs. Leola Woodard. The Beta Club honored and recognized all academically talented students who had earned no lower than a 3.0 GPA and grades of A's, B's and limited C's since their eight grade.

This year the Beta Club was made up of about 80 members. The main privilege of being in the Beta Club is that during graduation the member is honored by a sash worn around the neck to represent their academic achievements throughout their years of high school.

Beta Club members are known for more than just academics. This year the Beta Club participated in two service projects: the Good Samaritan House and the Muscular Dystrophy Drive.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a club that is open to all students. The Lexington Adult Chapter of FCA sponsors the FCHS Fellowship of Christian Athletes. In FCA, students have the opportunity to learn more about God. This is accomplished through Thursday morning devotions, camps, retreats, and conferences. The annual FCA retreat is held in Garden City, South Carolina. This is a time for all FCA huddle groups to come together as one and praise the Lord. Thursday Morning Devotions are held each week in the Dance Room. During this time, students pray, share prayer requests and praises, and have a brief devotion. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes gives each student the opportunity to praise the Lord in a Christian atmosphere.

The Spanish Club is one of many great clubs on the campus of Fairfield Central High School. The club members gather for many different reasons. One of the main goals of the club is to promote awareness of foreign cultures, especially spanish-speaking cultures. The club participates in a artwork contest during Foreign Language Week. This is a terrific way for the the club to promote foreign cultures.

The club also is very involved in service around the community, a theme common among clubs at Fairfield Central. Under advisor Senora McCool, the club sponsored a "Pie-in-the-Face" Contest. Mr. Smith's jar collected the most money, therefore he received a whipped cream pic in his face. With the money, the club sponsored children through the FCHS Social Studies Club "Angel Tree".

Media Center

Mrs. Beale and Mrs. Pickett are very much interested in the students opinions about their favorite authors and magazines to encourage more students to take any spare time that they can to visit the media center. They both assist the students and staff the best way that they can with any material that they can provide. The video collection is also in a wide variety. Let's not forget about the media center assistants that are very helpful to Mrs. Beale and Mrs. Pickett. They assist the students, staff, and Mrs. Beale and Pickett in any way they can since Specialist are not always able to lend a hand.

While the Media Specialists provide many services to students at FCHS, they cannot always be on hand for each student or faculty problem. To assist the Media Center, students volunteer as helpers throughout the year. These students help Mrs. Pickett and Mrs. Beale by checking out and in books, helping students on the computers and assisting students and faculty in finding books throughout the media center.

The Griffins were led on the season by seniors Donte Harrison, Ron Brown, Jenard Wadlington, Mike Green and Terrance Walker. These five gentlemen were counted on all season by the coaching staff to provide leadership and support for the young players in the Griffin program.

Based on the early season successes of the Griffin basketball team, Fairfield Central is well on their way to prominence in the region and the state!

The 2000 version of the J.V. Girls Basketball team picked up right where the 1999 team left off, by winning the Region III-AAA J.V. Girls Basketball Championship. Not only did the Baby Lady Griffins win their second straight region championship, this year's squad went undefeated with a 12-0 record, giving them a 24-1 record over the past two seasons.

The girls played a full court game with pressure on defense and a running offense. Fans enjoyed the hustle and enthusiasm at which the game was played, making it obvious to all that they enjoyed playing the game. The four returning sophomores (Ashley Witherspoon, Shemikia Alston, Dionna Murphy and Jofonda Trapp) lead the way for the newcomers (Deanna Robinson, sophomore and freshmen Ramona Belton, Shannon Owens, Demetra Jackson, Shawanda Kincade, Ashley Cohen, Jasma Cole and Keosha Roach). Seventh grader Amelia "12" Miller rounded out the squad. Coach Richard Starks guided the team for the second straight year.

Once again, the Griffin football team was a forced to be reckoned with. After compiling an 8-2 record during the regular season, Fairfield Central defeated Broome and Clinton in the AAA-Playoffs before falling to Greer in a double-overtime game on the road. While many around the state considered this to be a rebuilding year for head coach Charles Macaluso and his Griffins, Fairfield Central once again proved that they are an elite team in the state.

The Griffins, using the Wing-T formation on offense, overwhelmed nearly all of their opponents. Fairfield Central rushed for over 4,000 yards on the season, nearly 300 a game! In addition, the Griffins scored a total of 419 points this season alone! In addition, the young Griffin defense played very well, including a 33-0 shutout of Fort Mill on the road.

In recognition of their outstanding play throughout the year, several Griffins received post-season honors. Juniors Kelvin Cade and T.J. Canty joined seniors Thad Dorsey and Jonathan Starks on All-State teams throughout the state. Dorsey and Starks joined Coach Macaluso in Myrtle Beach two weeks after the season for the annual North-South All-Star Game. This game features outstanding seniors from around the state.

J. V. Griffin Football

The 1999 Junior Varsity Football team completed another winning season. Facing a tough Region III-AAA schedule, head coach Jerry Jackson and his coaching staff of William Ellis, Dwayne Mack and Ron Arnold had their team ready to meet the competition each week.

One of the most uplifting victories of the season for the Griffins was a home defeat of York. The Griffins had lost to the Cougars earlier in the season and were able to avenge the loss with a victory in E.K. McLendon Stadium before the home crowd.

Griffin Baseball

Despite being led by seniors Tony Parker and Curtis Robertson, the 1999 baseball season, by all accounts, was considered a rebuilding year. With a new coach, Mr. Dell Corley, and many underclassmen in the starting lineup, the Griffins competed in Region III play. In all, the team won 10 games on the season while laying the groundwork for a successful program. With most of the '99 players returning for the 2000 season, Fairfield Central expect great things from Griffin Baseball.

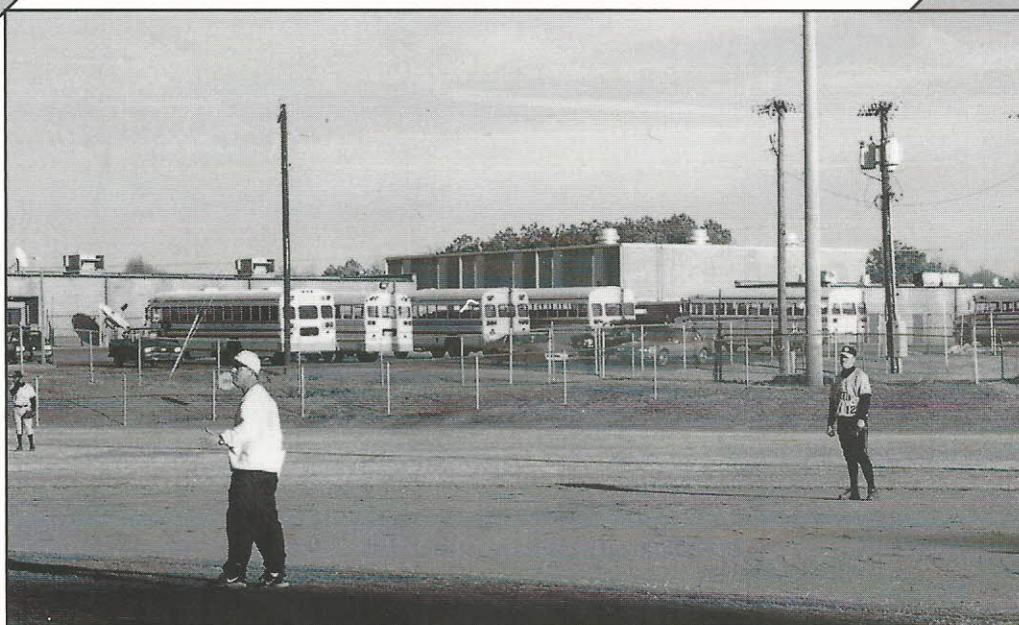

Junior T.K. Morgan and Robertson led the team with batting averages of .397. Both also led the team in games played with 21 apiece. The true success of the team, however, was the defense, especially the pitching. As a team, the Griffins posted an impressive 2.85 Earned Run Average. Parker led the team with 55 strikeouts. Freshman Tyler Thigpen allowed only eight earned runs on the season to lead the squad. Parker and junior Pat Bonds each won three game for the Griffins.

Griffin Golf

The 1999 Griffin Golf team was the most successful one in school history. Led by All-Region golfer Robbie Sharpe, the team set a new school record for victories. With a great deal of younger players, the team was able to live up to some of the potential head coach Gary Smallen recognized early. The fact that they got along well on and off the course played a major role in the team's successes. "It is interesting the way that this team works", said team member Albert Dukes. "At practice we are all trying to beat each other, but when it comes to a match we all have the same goal, and that is to win." The varsity team consisted of Sharpe, Dukes, Brad Williams, Doug Williams, David Hollis, Adam Swearengen, Coleman Dove, Jonathan Starks and John Marrs. The team has a very bright future ahead of them.

The 1999 Boys Track team was a young but energetic and devoted team. Four school records were set; nine athletes qualified for the AAA-Upper State Track Meet and one athlete placed fourth in the AAA-State Championship Track Meet. The "Fat Man Relay", featuring Odell McCants, James Cammon, Antonio Scott and Ershaun Turner fared well, setting a school record. Also, Jenard Wadlington, Robert Reeves, Arthur Price, and Kenrick Sanders joined together to set the school record in the 3,200-meter relay. Reeves and Wadlington also set individual records in the 400-meter run and 400-meter intermediate hurdles, respectively.

For the season, Arthur Price was selected as the Most Improved Track Athlete. Robert Reeves and Jenard Wadlington were selected as the Most Valuable Track Athletes for the 1999 season. The boys track team was coached by Reggie Shaw and Richard Starks.

Griffin Volleyball

For the first time in recent memory, Fairfield Central High School fielded a girl's varsity volleyball team. The Lady Griffins kicked off the 1999 season led by head coach Jennifer Bennett and team captain Takeisha Brown. The Griffins competed hard in each game, improving day-after-day. Sophomore Martha Dove commented, "The best thing about the season was that the competition was great!" Building on the hard work and dedication displayed by all members of this year's squad, this first volleyball season surely will be used as a foundation for yet another successful Griffin athletic team. In addition, many view the success of the new volleyball team as a stepping stone to the addition of even more athletic teams, for the men and women.

Griffin Cheerleading

The 1999-2000 version of Griffin Cheerleading started to come together early in the summer of 1999 when each member attended a summer camp on the campus of the University of South Carolina. Their hard work did not stop there, as each girl attended many summer workouts to be ready for the Griffin Football season. With only three returning members from the previous squad, everyone contributed to the advancement of the squad. New head coach Ms. Kyra Kephart worked well with all of the girls and families to prepare the team for the upcoming season. After the school year started, the girls regularly practiced three days a week to perfect their spirit and their moves.

While a main job of the team is to “infect” the football crowd with spirit, the team does much more throughout the year. Before each game the girls prepare “spirit tags” for each football and basketball player. Also, the team assists with Cake Night for the football players, a ritual of feeding the football team each Tuesday night after a victory. Other important tasks include helping during pep rallies and participating in community and school parades.

Thank you

The 1999-2000 DeNova Yearbook, Volume 14, was printed by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. This yearbook received considerable service from Taylor representatives Mike Smith and many thanks to Lily Pyles who answered unlimited phone calls and emails. This book was printed on 100 pound enamel paper stock, the 9 by 12 book featured student designs for the entire book. With a press run of 300 copies, the DeNova sold for $25 until December 17 and $30 thereafter until all copies were sold. The class portraits, groups shots, and special events were shot by Bryn-Alan Photography of Columbia, South Carolina. Students shot over 150 rolls of film with a speed of 400 ASA. The DeNova was produced entirely with the aid of two faculty advisors: Mr. Ryan Johnson, Production Advisor; and Mrs. Melissa Leach, Financial Advisor. The DeNova received no funding other than that raised by the sale of the books, advertisements, photography commission, and candy sales. Special thanks go to Principal, Mr. David A. Corley, Assistant Principals, Mr. Calvin Smith, Dr. Marie Roseborough, and Mr. Steve Wicker, for their constant support to both advisors and staff. An additional thanks goes to Ms. Esther Counts for her continual efforts in maintaining cleanliness in the Yearbook Room. Without the undying help of office support staff, Ms. Peggy Young, Ms. Yvonne Young, and Ms. Leilani Horton, the shipping and communications with the company could not have been possible. A special thanks goes to Ms. Melissa Leach, for the use of her computer lab during the production of this book.
