

POORLY PERFORMING

Togetherness is students, faculty, and administration working together towards making Fairfield Junior High School a better school. Under the team teaching method, teachers can work together to plan their lessons. The administration works to keep the school running smoothly and cooperates with teachers and their problems. The students join together to make our school the best that it can be.

