

togetherness

togetherness togetherness

togetherness

togetherness togetherness

togetherness

togetherness togetherness

togetherness

togetherness togetherness

Dean

Without people to shape destinies, no pattern could be formed.

The multitudes of people in the world determine many factors in a particular person's future. The students of Fairfield Junior High are a fragment of these people, but all will in some way play a part in another's life -- thus helping to mold another pattern besides their own.