

THE CARDINALS
1959

If you should search this country o'er, from Florida to Maine,
From Golden gate to Plymouth Rock, and then come back again;
From Northern Pines to Western Plains amid the Southern Flowers;
You'll never find a better school than this old school of ours.

And here's a rousing health to her, and here's a loud "Hooray";

And may the glories of our school grow brighter every day.

There's something that we wish to say that may seem strange to you,

But we have known it all along and so, of course, it's true.

No matter where you chance to roam beneath the flag so free,

You'll never find a better school than Jenkinsville S. C.

And here's a rousing health to her, and here's a loud "Hooray";

And may the glories of our school grow brighter every day.

Foreword

In an endeavor to make this the best "Cardinal" ever published at J. H. S., we've taken picture after picture, written and rewritten article after article, and what have we accomplished--a picturesque diary of the 1958-59 year at Jenkinsville High School.

This year has held memories both happy and sad, memories of scholastic, athletic, and social activities of our 1958-59 school year. The future years will bring changes in our lives and in our school, but there will be this diary of classmates, teachers, and friends we knew, the activities in which we took part, and the memories that will never be forgotten.

TO YOU

We, the class of '59 wish to express our appreciation to one who, through our high school years, has understood our problems, assisted us with patience of steel, listened to our complaints with an admirable smile, and enhanced our chance for success.

Her determined effort to satisfy and make us happy shall always be remembered as one of our most precious high school memories. We can't express in words our appreciation for her various contributions; but to show our love, honor, and respect for her, the seniors dedicate the '59 Cardinal to Mrs. Mary C. Eargle.
