

CLASS HISTORY

While seated one day my mind began to wander and passed over the years we spent at Monticello High School.

The dimmest recollection I have is when we reached the mature age of six and began our first year at school.

Miss Annie Coleman greeted us at the door and introduced us to our school life.

We passed on to our second year where we were taught by Mrs. Essie Turner and we began to feel that education was very important to a successful life.

In the third grade we were taught by Mrs. McWhirter; in the fourth, by Miss Glenn, and in the fifth by Miss Betty Coleman.

Our first experience with a man teacher was in the sixth grade with Mr. Hiott.

From there we went to the seventh grade where we met Miss Sarah Coleman and prepared for high school.

Then, we entered high school as grown and mature individuals.

Mr. Powell then took us and we passed on to the ninth grade.

There Miss Buzhardt met us and guided us through the ninth and tenth grades.

Then we became dignified Seniors in the class of 1946. We had dwindled our thirty-two students to a small number of twelve.

The members of our class are:
Grace Blair, Buddy Barbee, Annie Pearle Cromer, Allen Graham, Allene Graham, Dennis Florence, Mary Jo Ladd, George Wilkes, Ann Miller, George Yongue, Annie Laura Lindler, and William Ramey. Out of the number, all but Dennis Florence and Annie Pearle Cromer started in the first grade here.
