The Senior Class Of
MONTICELLO HIGH SCHOOL

ALMA MATER

Hail to thee our Alma Mater
Where our thoughts will lie,
We shall ever love and cherish
All our precepts high.
Fond the memories that cluster
Round our dear school halls.
Naught shall ever dim the luster
That thy name recalls.

Refrain

Monticello sing we ever
Loud thy praises tell
Hail to thee our Alma Mater
Hail all Hail to thee.

DEDICATION

To Mr. J. W. Wood, our efficient principal, our competent coach, and our sincere friend, we, the Seniors of 1949, dedicate this volume of the BLUE AND GOLD.

*Best wishes for a happy future,
J. W. Wood*

CLASS PROPHECY OF 1949

As I sat quietly as is my wont and listened as the Class of 1949 excitedly repeated the predictions of the Fortune Teller, Madam X, at her booth at the carnival.

I shall list the fortunes of our class as they gave them.

Troxel Berley and Ruth McClintock discussing the possibility but not the probability of all the little Prices having different names.

William Taylor picking the "git fiddle" over WGCD at Chester.

Wanda Price librarian at Duke University.

Joel Turner assistant to Mr. Hunter Brown in the lumber business at Strother, South Carolina.

Hazeline Rawls still trying to learn how to square dance.

James Fuller chief engineer on the "Carolina Special".

Doris Boulware owning a big ranch out West.

Luther Shuler chief cook and bottle washer in the Navy.

Iris Florence publishing yearbooks at School Service Company.

Billy Shedd "Wright or Wrong he got her!"

Vallaree Faulkner coaching basketball at "Poe Dunk Hi".

Ernest Crawford losing everything including his girls.

Allen Cooley making his debut in Metropolitan Opera House.
