

OUR SUPERINTENDENT

Twenty-four years ago, Grover Folsom Patton took over the duties as superintendent of Mount Zion Institute. He did not come as a stranger, for he had taught in the system some years before.

Through his years in historic Mount Zion, he has endeared himself both to those whom he has taught and to those with whom he has worked. His inspiring chapel talks have become part of the fine tradition of Mount Zion—and the "something fine," yet indefinable, that he has instilled in pupils of this institution will remain as splendid evidence of his achievement.

I shall remember you always and always with affection
