

A laurel wreath, composed of two branches of leaves, frames the central text. The branches curve upwards and outwards from the center, meeting at the bottom where they cross.

DEDICATION

We dedicate this, THE TUSITALA of 1946, to Peace, for which so many have fought and died, that it might come to all the world and be preserved throughout the coming years.