

In Memoriam

JIMMY STEVENSON

Of all jewels, he reminded us most of the diamond with its facets flashing rich lustre. His Christian life possessed a quality of quietness, but underneath that quietness was strength of integrity and unselfish devotion to family, friends, and his church.

"They shall be mine, saith the Lord of host, in that day when I make up my jewels."
Malachi 3:17.