

"The only way to have what we want is to share what we have."