

Parent-Teacher Organization

Striving to promote communication and harmony and to assist in the promotion of the general welfare of the school, the PTO held three general meetings during the school year, of which one was an open house with parents assuming the role of students and attending classes according to the schedules of their children. 1978-79 was a banner year for the PTO. A square dance, a hash sale, and a raffle netted sufficient funds to purchase a new piano for the Academy.
