

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of 1982, being of sound mind and bodies, do declare this to be our Last Will and Testament and do hereby bequeath these, our worldly goods, to fortunate individuals so designated below.

To Coach Gasque, Marcus Steele leaves a book on how to breed a bucket of plastic worms.

To those eight friends of Marcus Steele, he leaves one blue Chevette with a full tank of gas and a one year supply of mailboxes.

Mary Ann Gunter and Jeffery Oxner leave Mrs. Nicholson one Mother Fletcher's T-shirt in the bathroom of room 879 at the Sea Dip Motel in Myrtle Beach.

Lisa Enlow, Terri Moore, and Jeffery Oxner leave Mr. Taylor one portable sandblaster and three new brooms.

Thomas Boswell leaves the football team his V.I.P. pass to the Rock Hill Memorial Hospital, good any time, day or night.

To Cheryl Hall, Thomas leaves a case of melted Snickers and a book on how to analyze dreams.

Thomas, Ernie, and Pat leave the Juniors the ability to keep the aluminum can recycling company in business.

To Betsy Barrineau, Sara Stewart leaves her the ability to fall off the bleachers in style.

Julie Brooks and Lib Turner leave a free trip in the backset of Sam and Dee Dee's car to Betsy and Becky, only valid during football season.

To some lucky girl, Julie leaves Mac Westbrook. Now he can pinch someone else in obscene places.

Pat Westbrook leaves to Billy Hobbs his ability to get injured anytime or anyplace.

Pat also leaves a free trip to the river to Billy Hendrix.

Jeffery Oxner leaves to some non-football player the ability to make it through four years of Mr. Gasque's math class.

Terrie, Lib, Julie, and Dina leave Penny one megaphone and an extra set of vocal chords in hopes that she will be able to cheer the Lady Eagles to the State Championship.

Sara, Lisa, and Mary Ann leave Mr. Robinson three stat keepers who will always be on time and never miss a shot in hopes that he won't forget Them at the Athletic Banquet.

Mary Ann leaves Robbin to Mr. Robinson so that he will have someone to pick on.

To Cheryl Hall, Mary Ann leaves the ability to sit at the back of the bus and to keep her mouth shut.

To John McNeely, Mary Ann leaves her high school ring, just to make Kirk happy.

To D. Melton, Lib leaves her physics, algebra, and English notes in hopes that he will stay on the football team for more than six weeks.

To a next year accounting student, Amy leaves her ability never to come to class, never to complete a project, but still managing to pass.

To Holly Hamilton and Allyson Sanders, Amy leaves the ability to graduate from Richard Winn with a criminal record.

To Judy Fetner, Amy leaves the ability to bring the Lebanon crowd to school and still remain sane.

Karen Douglas leaves to Baettie Burroughs the ability to leave for practice at 3:00 when it starts at 4:30. She also leaves her many excuses for not running a suicide full speed and her ability to graduate without giving the teachers "polished apples"

To Coach Phillips, Karen leaves her ability not to ever do anything right.

To Elisa Hare, Karen leaves a pack of gum to smack on and a "Big" fog horn.

To Mr. Taylor, faculty, and parents of RWA, Steve Mattox leaves with a smile on his face and a song in his heart.

To Bill Stidham, Steve leaves his habit to find someone to say "What's going on?" to him.

To the upcoming senior basketball players he leaves the backdoor key to "Mammy's Kitchen"

To Sam Pope, Debbie Hinnant leaves her tactic always to add the perfect touch to cheers during football season.

To the lucky member of next year's seniors class, Debbie leaves a complete, unused collection of all parallel reading books required for Senior English. She also leaves a set of slightly used Cliff's Notes to these books.

To some lucky girl in next year's Algebra III Class, Debbie leaves the ability not to understand a single word Mr. Gasque ever says. To Mr. Gasque, Debbie just leaves.

Jeffery leaves Mr. Phillips the book 10 Ways to Coach a Tennis Team.

To Mrs. Turner, Jay Frazier leaves one bottle of extra strength Anacin.

To Shannon Frazier, Jay leaves the ability to stay out of trouble and the ability to be "bull" headed.

Dina Plampin leaves to Mrs. Nicholson one free pass to Mother Fletcher only valid on nights of wet T-shirt contest.

To Billy Hendrix, Dina leaves the ability to drive a bus through a gas station without tearing it down.
