

Spring Activities

Spring came early at RWA as the Boys Varsity Basketball team won the state championship. One of the team's coaches, Rev. Jerry Wolff, is seen in the pictures at left cutting down the net and talking to players during a time-out. Coch Wolff's contributions to Richard Winn over the years have been invaluable. As he leaves Winnsboro for another position, the gratitude and best wishes of the school family go with him.

First Graders were fascinated with the butterfly kits in which three butterflies emerged from the lava stage. In Mrs. Harden's class Benjamin Porter and Joseph Cope watch as a butterfly dries its wings.

Like Rhett Melton and Lester Robinson, many students learned the techniques of making artistic gold rubbings. From metal plates they copied pictures of figures from British history.
