Sub-Freshmen Participate In Many Activities

The Eighth Class at Richard Winn is really unique. They have shown themselves to be enthusiastic participants and tough competitors in every aspect of school life.

Last year they were the class to beat at pep rallies. They won the spirit stick at every pep rally except one, and they tied that time. They also won first and second place in the spirit poster contest. They year they had the longest spirit chain with over 800 links. The eighth grade also won the door decorating contest at Christmas.

Academically, this class also excels. There are eleven eighth graders in the Junior Beta Club. Fourteen class members make honor and merit rolls with regularity.

Participation is also a passion of this lively group. In cheerleading and JV football this year were eleven Sub-freshmen. During basketball season, there were twenty participants. Seventeen were into Spring sports.

With this type of interest and enthusiasm, this group will continue to be an asset to Richard Winn.

Miriam Peay finds it hard to eat just one potato chip at lunch.

Joe Brice, George King, and Matthew Mazat never, never sound like Randy Redneck in their conversations with each other.
