

Varsity Boys Rebuild Strong Team

The 1986-87 varsity boys basketball team surprised a few people this year. Before the season began, the outlook was rather pessimistic. Having graduated eight members of last year's state championship team, this year's team was faced with a major rebuilding year. But with a great deal of desire and hustle, the Eagles were able to pull off a few upsets and hold their own against some very tough teams.

The team was lead by All-Conference point guard Crawford Hughes and got strong inside play from Rion Burley. Strong substitutes, Dean Branham, Freddie Glenn, and Bo Williams got valuable playing experience which will be beneficial to next year's team.
