Looking Into The Future

After graduating from DeVry, Ricahrd Branham has turned his house into a movie theater where the "gang" can always be found eating Johnny food and doing ear tricks.

After graduating from college with a degree as a rocket scientist, Bill Barnett now works at the world famous Chippendale's as a janitor.

Tonya Babb now has four houses in different parts of the world. This is handy because she also has a husband in each house. Way to go, Tonya!

After experimenting for several years in the lab, Frances Keels finally found a way to reduce her height to 5'1", only to get a job at a Breyers' coffee ice cream plant and gain 70 pounds.

Jonathan Rambo, after moving back to South America, is now the head Fire Chief of the Pygmee tribe.

Shannon Case who has divorced Ken now dances on "Solid Gold" to support her family.

Page "Bowie" Castles graduated with her Ph.D. in Psychology. She now counsels bow-legged childred on coping with cruel "bow-legged" jokes from their peers.

After attending Gina's Sunday School where they give out candy, Eddie Maddox has become extremely religious and has decided to start his own religion: Eddieism.

After changing his name to E. Francis and his image to Mr. Rogers, E. Francis Cathcart goes to the College of Charleston, runs The Blue Oyster Bar, and moonlights with Peter Odinis.

Sandi Wright, after being trampled by rioters at a Depeche Mode concert, is now the "Rolling" leader of the Wheelchair Groupies.

After getting "Cocky," Crawford Hughes was kicked out of Clemson and is now an erotic dancer at E. Francis' Blue Oyster Bar.

Kim Brown now owns her very own motorized wheelchair. After running over and killing 13 people, she has been sentenced to CCI and a death sentence is being considered.

After a short college life, Will Black is now a preacher and can be seen at night driving the Road Runner and throwing Bibles at pedestrians and yelling "Repent!!"

Brad Sanders joined the Winnsboro police force and now is the head of the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Center.

U.S. Representative Patrick McGuire is adored by the youth for his proposal of the Thursday through Tuesday weekend.

Perry Mattox, the world famous comedian, can be heard yelling "chi chi" as the punch line for his late night show.

After going AWOL, Bob Barnett is now the head trainer of the Ballet Club Benedict College.

At the Medical University Hospital, where she is now employed, Hannah Phillips was honored as the Best Dressed "Prune", with the prettiest hair.

I love Eric!
