

Johnny Ray Procter and Joe Renwick check to see if anyone else's lunch looks better than theirs.

Third Grade Stays Busy

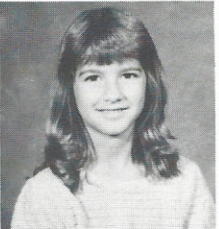

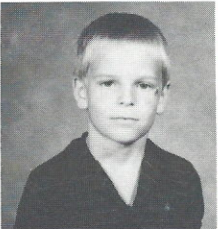

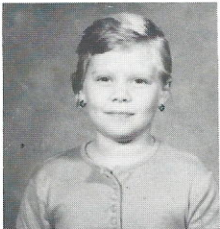

The third grade has participated in many things in and out of school this year. In December the third grade went to see the movie Tom Sawyer. They also participated in Mrs. Martha Ladd's art class where they made paper plate pumpkins, clay ornaments, and witch mobiles for Halloween and paper turkeys for Thanksgiving. Before Christmas the third graders made Christmas tree ornaments, Santa Claus calendars, and Christmas snow shows which are paper weights made out of baby food jars with a snow scene inside. All of these activities kept the third graders busy during the 1987-1988 school year.

by Fran Daniels

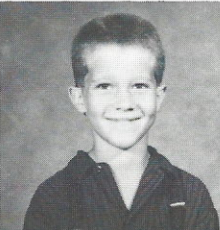

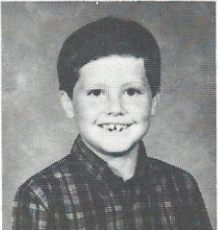

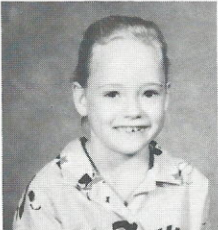

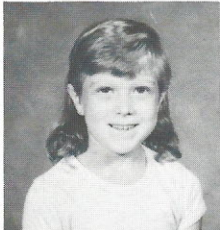

Logan Doty puts finishing touches on his work during Mrs. Martha Ladd's art class. He especially enjoyed making the Santa Claus calendars.

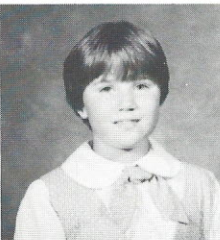

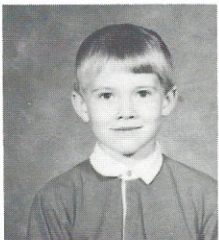

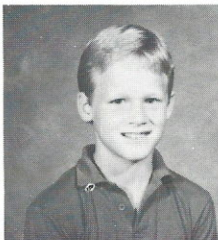

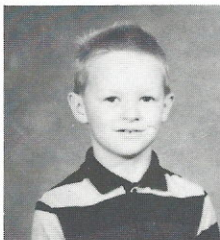

Elizabeth Harwood and Martha Stevenson check their math homework in Mrs. Ladd's class as each student in the class participates by giving a correct answer when he is called on.

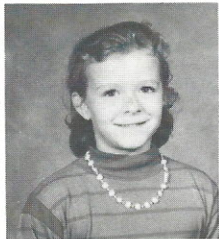

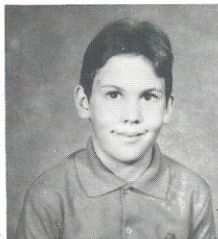

Erica Hennessee
Ken Hornsby
Allyson Lewis
Missy Lutz

Elaine Mann
Missy McGinnis
Jonathan Myers
Benjamin Porter

Johnny Ray Procter
Joe Renwick
Robbie Shedd
Marion Sprott

Martha Stevenson
Daryl Stout
Caroline Wilkins
Jacqueline Williams