

Fifth Graders Display Enthusiasm

Ho, Ho, Ho, it's merry 'ole Joe Renwick dressing up like Santa Claus!

This group of twenty-five fifth graders was characterized by activity, competition, enthusiasm, and comradery. They challenged each other as well as their teacher. During football season, the class supplied three enthusiastic managers for the RWA teams. They performed the musical "The Best Christmas Ever" with 100% participation and 150% effort. It was a smashing success. They worked with the fourth grade to present a very moving patriotic program. The fifth grade also visited Gibbes Planetarium in Columbia to culminate their study of the stars and constellations. In social studies, the class has walked through the history of our nation from its colonization to the present. Throughout the year, this group has worked together and as individuals. They have grown by leaps and bounds. This enthusiastic group will be exciting to watch in the years to come, both in academics and also in athletics. They are achievers!

by Mrs. Beth Harwell

Elaine Mann
Christy Murphy
Jonathan Myers
Benjamin Porter
Haley Ray
Joe Renwick
Robbie Shedd

Marion Sprott
Martha Stevenson
Cristel Thompson
Caroline Wilkins
Jacqueline Williams
Chet Wright

Jacque Williams and Ken Hornsby point out the elves in this year's Christmas play.

Ken Hornsby and Jonathan Myers wait behind the scenes for their big moment on stage.