

"If I were King of the Forrrresstt . . ."

Chorus with Mrs. Nicholson is a lot of fun, but it is hard work, too.

Any place is a good place to study.

When It Comes to 5th Grade

Field Day was sponsored by the P.T.O. again this year. The May 15th event went off without a hitch with the 5th grade capturing most of the blue ribbons. Beginning at 9:00 A.M. grades 1 - 5 participated in various relays and races. Here Brent Branham and Michael Anderson begin a dash to the finish line.

Everyone looks forward to lunch! Ch down!

When asked what was outstanding about this class, Mrs. Harwell commented that they are "very active and have a love to communicate with each other." Could that mean they like to talk? Whatever the case, the 5th graders are a super group of kids with a lot of potential in the classroom and in the sports arena. Almost everyone enjoys playing some kind of sport. Look for them to be our future Eagle standouts!

Learning manners is . . . FUN!
