Unique Bunch

Could Jonathan Myers and Cristel Thompson be playing patty-cake? NOT! Joseph Schachner and Kim Brice watch as they continue their hand slapping game.

The eighth grade class is a very unique group as reported by Jan Faile. Each individual's distinctiveness is shown in everything from the music they like to hear, to how each one spends his or her time. Even though the people in this class are very different in many ways, they are very close.

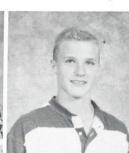

Eight graders' radio dials never stay on the stations for too long. When asked their favorite type of music, the majority voted country, which was followed close behind by rap. Pop rock is also enjoyed. Sub-Freshmen's favorite singers varied also. Among the top rankers were Garth Brooks for country; Ice Cube, Arrested Development, and The Ghetto Boys tied for rap; and Whitney Houston and The Spin Doctors tied for pop rock.
