

Take It from the "Pros" . . .

The seniors of '93 have made it through twelve years of good decisions, bad decisions, successes, and failures. They have done it all. At least THEY think they have. Now they leave behind some words of wisdom for us.

"Don't worry, be happy," said Ashlee Spires. "Get involved in school activities, and STUDY, STUDY, STUDY! And most of all, be yourself; don't worry about what others may think. Make the best of your years at R.W.A."

Robbie Black put it short and to the point, "Work hard."

"Make every minute count," said Camak Blair.

"You can't understand how important your grades are until it's too late," added Donna Faulk. "Do your BEST all four years of high school."

"Go to college where you'll be happy, not where someone else wants you to be," said Reagan Lewis. "Also, if you take Mr. George Taylor's class, BUY A TYPEWRITER!"

"Study hard," replied Bill Dove, "so that you don't flunk."

John Martin advised, "Be involved in clubs, listen to your teachers, study, raise a lot of money for your class, and choose a college you want to go to."

"Have fun, but think before you act," said Michelle Moody, "and don't take R.W.A. for granted. There's no place else quite like it."

Mary Lee Hodges passed on the advice of Tennyson. "Live pure, speak truth, right wrong, follow the King: else wherefore born."

"Try to be yourself," responded Casey Bonds, "and always try to maintain your individuality, no matter what others may say or do."

"Don't ever compromise your Christian beliefs just for your friends," said Priscilla Rambo. "They will respect you more if you stand up for what you believe."
