

Annual middle school trip allows sixth and seventh graders to

EXPLORE VIRGINIA

A BARREL OF FUN. Several sixth graders stop their sightseeing at the Jamestown Settlement long enough to perch atop and around a cannon on display.

RACING THE CLOCK. Ryan Johnson was chosen from the group to demonstrate how fast he could pick up seeds from a boll of cotton. The Yorktown tour guide and Ryan's classmates watched closely as the seconds ticked away.

SCHOOL CAN BE FUN! One of the highlights of being in middle school is getting the opportunity to take an overnight school trip. 59 students posed in front of the Rotundra at UVA during the snowfall on March 3.
