

SOPHOMORES

What do you remember most about your sophomore class?

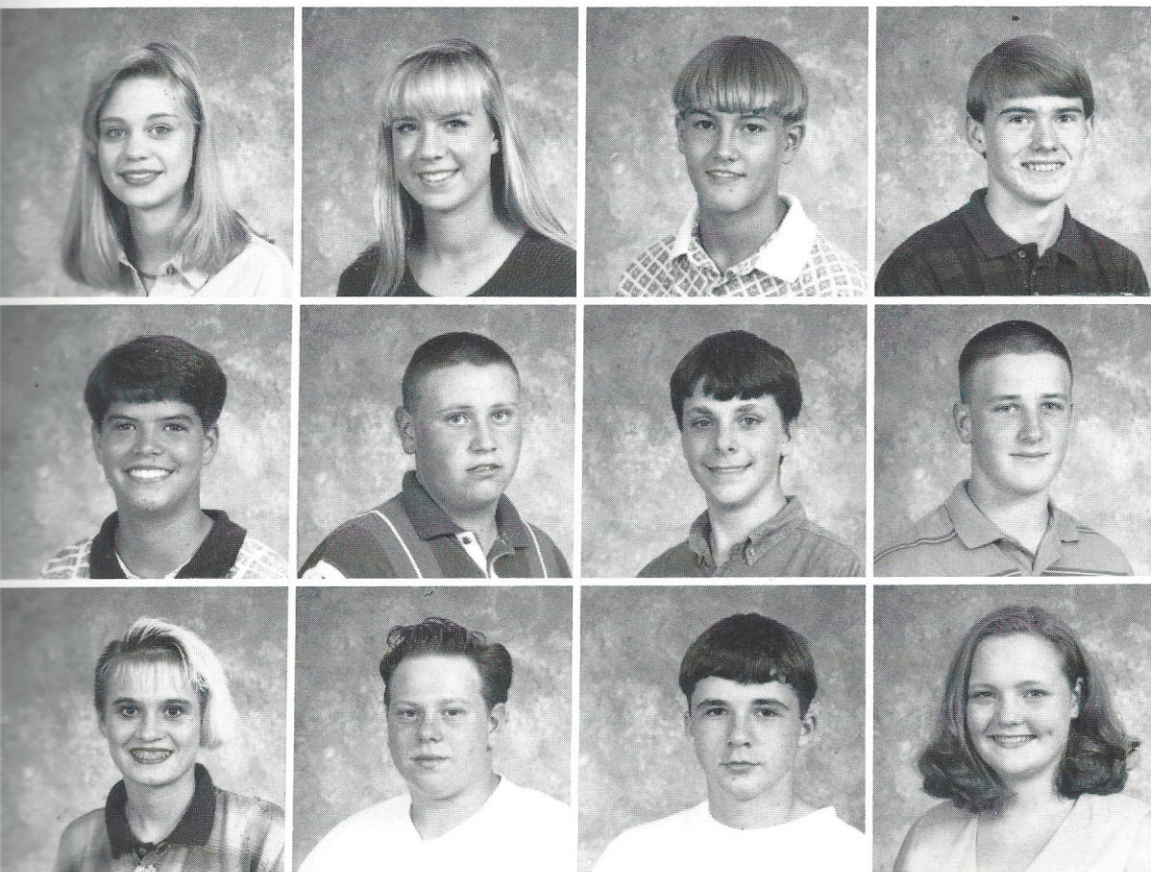

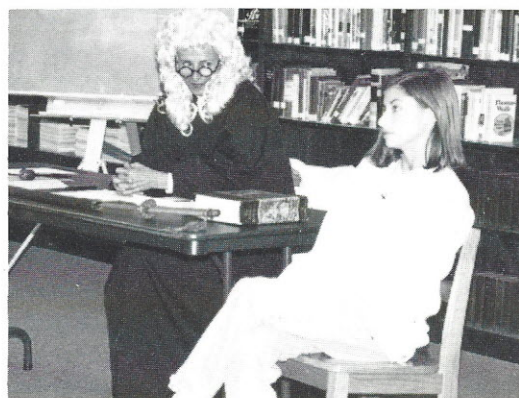

"The thing that I will remember most about the sophomore class of 1995 is the warm acceptance that was displayed when I arrived at school in the middle of the year. Their sincere concern and welcoming attitudes made it very easy for me to be comfortable and fit in in a new environment."

— Mary Beth Shannon

GETTIN' DOWN. Jen Robinson, Melissa Hollis, Lindsey Bonds, Susan Martin, and Hydrick Harden take time from the regular learning to study a new way. They invented the new Twister by using scientific questions and putting the answers on the circles.

DO YOU SWEAR TO TELL THE TRUTH ... Skeet Clarkson, judge for the sophomores' mock trial, casts a suspicious glance at the prosecution's witness, Lindsey Bonds. Although Lindsey swore to tell the truth, Mrs. Clarkson doesn't seem convinced.
