

FIFTH GRADE

What is your favorite subject? Why?

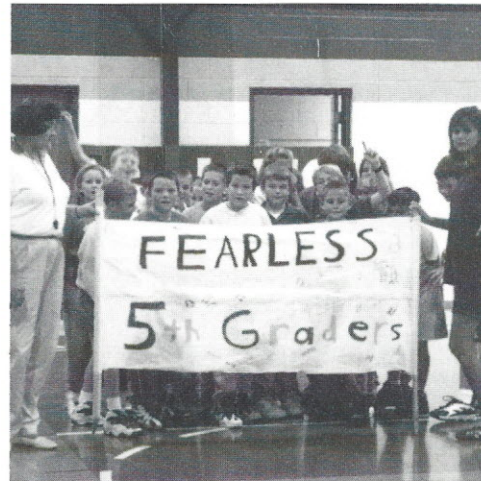

“Social Studies — because it’s fun, and we play games.” — Jeni-Bruce Wilkes

“Social Studies — because you get to know dead guys.” — Brooks Quinn

“Science — you get to dissect things and see what’s in a lamb’s brain.” — Brett Seats

“Science — because there’s always something new and inspiring to learn.” — Ashlyn Tanner

“Science — because I love finding out things by experiments.” — Will Lemmon

WORKING AS A TEAM. Joe Hodges and Jeni-Bruce Wilkes take down the American flag one afternoon. Raising and lowering the flag daily has become a fifth grade ritual.

SPIRIT SHINES THRU. The fifth graders show their spirit by creating a banner to run through before a pep rally. Their enthusiasm always put them in competition for the spirit stick.

GIVING A HELPING HAND. At Mr. Taylor’s birthday party, Ashlyn Tanner assists the clown in performing a magic trick. The lower school helped Mr. Taylor celebrate his 30th birthday (again).
