

RWA STAFF

Mr. Bobby Beaver
custodian
Mrs. LeAnn Douglass
dietician and day care worker
Ms. Missy Crawford
day care manager

Ms. Minnie Johnson
custodian
Mrs. Carolyn Miller
dietician
Mrs. Judy Montgomery
dietician
Mr. Todd Robinson
baseball coach and asst.
football coach

Faculty/Staff

Mrs. Joy Taylor
guidance counselor and Spirit
Fund director
Mrs. Susan Young
secretary and bookkeeper

How does having your own child at school and/or in your class affect you?

Mrs. Melinda Brown — "Being at RWA with my children has helped in planning vacation time. We now have the same vacations and get out of school each day at the same time."

Mr. Matthew Fletcher — "It is comforting to know my child is close by. It will be nice to just pile the kids in the car and go straight to work without having to stop off at a different school or day care."

Mr. Mike Robinson — "Having Michael and MacKenzie at RWA does help me relate to and get to know the younger children who attend RWA."

Mrs. Martha Martin — "I just feel more in touch with what is happening at school and with Susan's activities."

Mrs. Sharon Bell — "It really keeps me involved in everything that affects my children and allows me to be readily available when they need me."

Mrs. Karen Ray — "I enjoy teaching at the school where my children are! I like knowing what is going on."

Mrs. Ann Lutz — "I love teaching at the school where my child attends! (but ask my daughter — she probably has a different point of view.)"

Mrs. Harvey Brown — "I have felt more in tune to their lives, and I have had the opportunity to share some very special experiences with them."

Mrs. Martha Ladd — "I love being involved in my children's school related activities. However, having to make the transition from mom to teacher has been extremely hard on my girls and me. I feel as though I have been harder on them than my other students to keep from showing favoritism."

DOUBLE DUTY. Proud mother Beth Harwell gives a big hug to daughter Katie just before graduation. Mrs. Harwell pulled double duty this year as both a full-time mom and middle school teacher.