

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL. The smiling Bradley family, portrayed by Marion Sprott, Charlie Hodges, Cleve Langdale, and Gini Startzman receive congratulations on a job well done.

WHATEVER! Although Grace Bradley (Gini Startzman) doesn't know what to do about the pageant, her husband, played by Charlie Hodges, doesn't really seem to care. In the end, though, both the pageant and the play were a success.

MOTLEY CREW. The horrible Herdman family, played by Lynly Ehrlich (Imogene), Ryan Klingner (Ralph), Ashlyn Tanner (Gladys), Brett Seats (Ollie), Willy Pope (Claude), and B.J. Freeman (Le-roy), were always up to no good.

TAKE TWO! Grace, played by Gini, seems a little exasperated that the Herdmans are treating baby Jesus more as a football than the Messiah. Despite her efforts, the Herdman's still manage to "steal the show."