

REMEMBER WHEN? Co-Salutatorian Edie Pope invites the crowd of parents, faculty, and students to recall some of the memorable moments in the graduates' lives. Since there was a tie for salutatorian, the class history was split, and Edie spoke of kindergarten to fifth grade.

READY TO BEGIN. With the seniors on stage, Junior Marshalls Caroline Wilkins and Elaine Mann exit to the back of the gym. After many years of hard work and numerous academic accomplishments, the seniors were ready to receive their diplomas.

MEMORABLE MOMENT. Senior Sara Boyd Arnette, co-salutatorian, happily accepts her diploma from Headmaster Carroll Taylor. Sara's hard work paid off as she received several scholarships and awards.

SLOWLY! During commencement, Katie and Andy Zelnar line up at the rear of the gym ready to walk down the center aisle to the stage. Mrs. Joy Taylor directed by telling each senior when to begin walking and reminding them to walk slowly.

"ON EAGLES WINGS." The High School chorus performs together for one last time at graduation. Appropriately, they sang an uplifting piece, "On Eagle's Wings."
