

TICKLING THE IVORIES. Senior pianist Maribeth Coleman, assisted by her mom, entertains the audience with her accomplished musical talent as the judges view the lovely contestants. Maribeth has been playing the piano since she was in the second grade.

AND THE WINNERS ARE ... Mrs. Kerry Matthews once again serves as the Mistress of Ceremonies for the Miss RWA Pageant. The seniors were delighted that she agreed to serve in this capacity as she always does such an excellent job.

ARE YOU READY FOR THIS? As the judges and auditor, Mrs. Gwen Harden, are introduced to the crowd preceeding the contestants' entrance, they look calm, cool, and collected as they pose for the camera. Choosing the winners can be very stressful.

HEY ..., HEY BABY. What, a new contestant? Senior Brentina Branham and the boys' chorus ensemble truly entertain the audience during one of the pageant's intermissions. Hey, Brent, you ought to wear a dress more often to draw all this attention.

REMINISCE WITH MY OLD FRIENDS. Under the direction of Mrs. Ellen Nicholson, these guys do a great job singing a medley of songs from different decades. Of course, the beautiful music doesn't just happen without lots of practice and a multitude of talent.
