

WANDERING IN WASHINGTON

STRIKE A POSE! Even though these seventh graders finally have a chance to sit and rest, they are not yet too tired to pose for a picture. Who would give up a chance to be in the yearbook?!

ARE WE THERE YET? Amy Branham, Roe Coleman, and Brittini Anderson keep busy during the long tiresome train ride. They, as well as the rest of the group, anxiously awaited their arrival in Washington.

ABOUT-FACE! Here Mikell Jones, Ashley Mills, Boy Brown, and Lauren O'Donnell help to honor the unknown soldier. All four students felt privileged to be able to take part in this ceremony.

GROUP HUG. Once in Washington Brittini Anderson, Meredith Brown, Brittany Melvin, and Erin Edwards sit with their favorite math teacher, Mr. Dan Dale. Mr. Dale was one of the teachers that organized this great trip.

WHAT A SITE! After touring it, the seventh graders pose for a group picture in front of the White House. This impression will be forever in their minds as they go on later in life.
