

... to the beauty of the winter snow when you got six unplanned holidays from school.

... to the age of innocence when you loved dressing up in fun costumes for special programs.

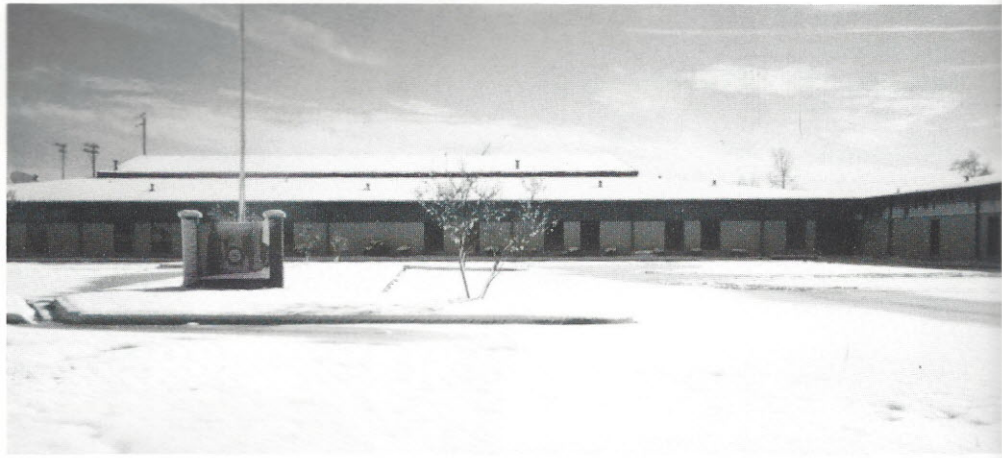

... to the very entertaining boys' chorus programs featured during the Miss RWA pageant.

... to the school spirit you exhibited as you attended your school's athletic events.

... to the long awaited prom evening when you danced the night away with special friends.

... to the carefree, peaceful times when a grandparent would read a story aloud to you.

... to the glory and rewarding pats for achievement for the good of the team.

... to the encouragement and enthusiastic responses you got from teachers along the way.
