

HEAD OF THE CLASS

Salutatorian Melissa Walsh gives her address on the topic of hard work. Melissa followed in her mother's footsteps as a high achiever and earned this prestigious position, too.

WELCOME, FRIENDS!

Board Chairman John McMeekin welcomes the audience and gives the seniors a few words of advice for their post-RWA years. Mr. McMeekin, an alumni himself, also reflected upon his own RWA graduation.

JUNIOR MARSHALS

Will Lemmon, John Allen (head marshal), Josh Sanders, and Sam Arnette stand on church steps for a picture prior to beginning their duties as marshals. These four guys were tops in their class and rightly earned the privilege of being junior marshals.

WE READY!

Smiles were abundant from these guys as they anticipate receiving their diplomas shortly. Although most of them will go in different directions after this time, RWA alumni events and reunions will bring them happily back together again.

LOOKING BACK...

Salutatorian Lacy Harsey reflects on the many memories she has shared with her classmates in her graduation speech. Many of Lacy's stories had the audience chuckling while many of the seniors blushed.

BROTHERLY PRIDE

Senior Berry Mattox proudly accepts the McCormick scholarship offer presentation from his Citadel cadet brother. Like Jae, Berry will join the cadet ranks next fall on full scholarship.
