

• A SYMBOL OF UNITY •

First graders Jason Branham and Victoria Durham sign the Eagle Code pledging honesty and integrity in and out of school. The Eagle Code helped bring the student body together under an honor system created by the students themselves.

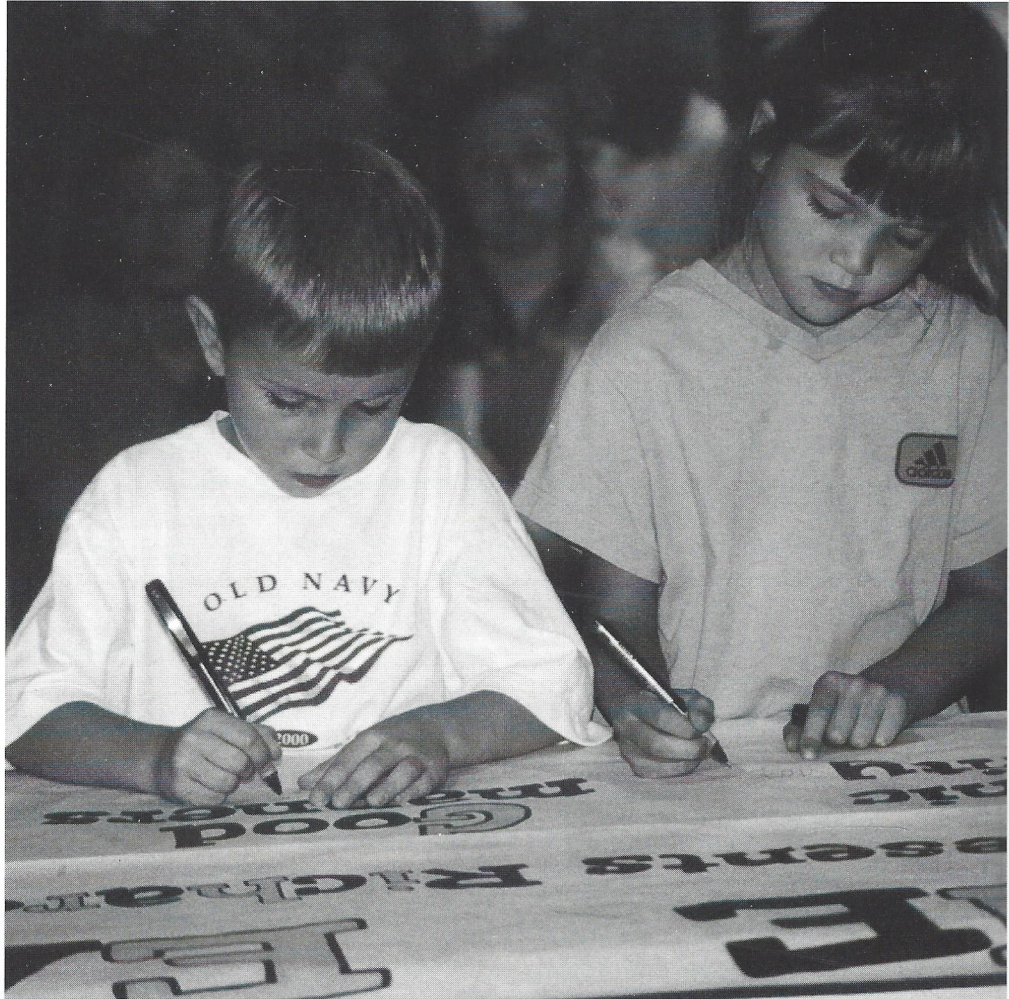

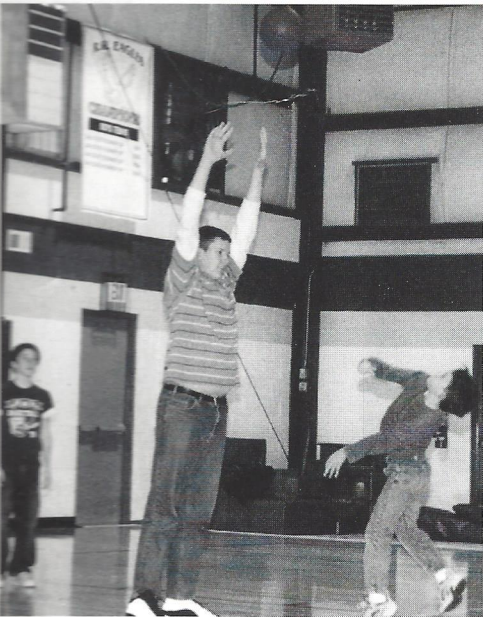

• KINGDOM COME •

Homecoming King Zac Branham receives a few words of congratulation from his aunt after being crowned king. Homecoming King is determined by the support and enthusiasm of the student body and direct reflection of the students.

• SHOOT OVER SPUD •

Third grader Zach Davis does his best to get the basketball over the outstretched arms of our resident giant, Thomas DeLancey. This exciting contest was an additional "fun"draiser sponsored by the Booster Club during half-time of home basketball games.

• SHAGGING ON THE BOULEVARD •

Instructor Lynn Douglas and partner Brooks Quinn dance and watch the long line of students as they put their new shag steps to practice. Students were eager to learn to shag as beach music is still ever so popular, and The Shag is the official State Dance.

• QUEEN FOR A DAY •

Sonya Walters proudly accepts the title of Miss RWA from the reigning queen Elizabeth Schachner. The Miss RWA Pageant allows girls from grades seven through twelve to grace the stage and awe the audience with their beauty, poise, and composure.
