

• SAY CHEESE •

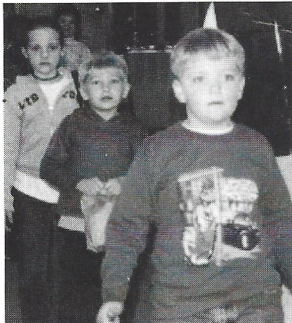

Mrs. Mills's class take time away from carving their pumpkin to smile for the camera. The first graders showed spirit during the holidays.

• CANNIN' THE CAVS •

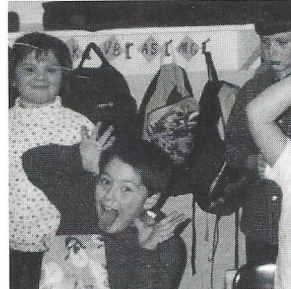

During Homecoming Week the first graders put effort into their mascot decoration. Not only was this a good theme, but it also served as a good litter recycling project.

There's Austin!: Austin Costenbader takes time away from working to smile for the camera. Even though Mrs. Mills had the first graders working hard, Austin always found time to entertain his classmates.

Follow The Leader: William Rosborough leads his class down the hall. After a hard morning's work, the first graders were usually eager to take a break for lunch.

Citadel Cadet: Mason Gibbons smiles after opening his Christmas present. Christmas parties were always a great way to show kindness by exchanging presents.
