

• RING THE BELL! •

Hard at work, Mikey Bunting and Daniel Porter don't mind looking goofy for Hat Day as they finish their class work. It was tough keeping their minds on their academics during the excitement of Spirit Week.

• SURPRISE •

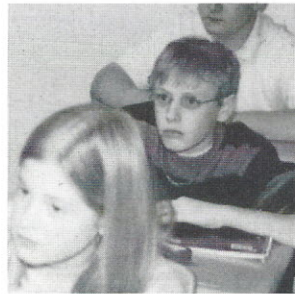

William Ladd is caught by surprise after he claims the victory as this year's Most Spirited Farmer. William's unique attire and abundant school spirit made him a likely choice as Farmer Day winner.

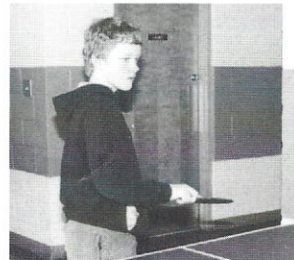

Sign Me Up: Everyone watches as Anna Burns and Lauren Mason sign their names as pledges to abide by the Eagle Code. Students from first through twelfth grades put their signatures on this inaugural document.

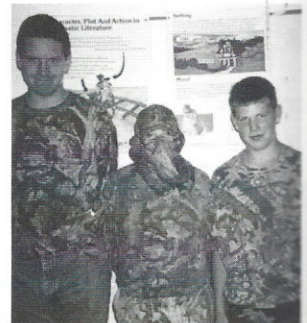

Can 'Em: Martin Caulder and Mary Grace Phillips prepare their prop for the homecoming game. The Eagles soared to the homecoming victory thanks to support from fans like them.

Hurry Hurry: Eager to learn Michael Robinson quickly writes his notes down before the bell rings. He rejoined the RWA family in the middle of the school year.

Ace: Newcomer Ben Playfair smashes his serve such that his opponent, Joseph Statham, is unable to return the ball. This was Ben's first year at RWA and he clearly had no problems fitting in.

Where'd They Go: Thomas, Adrian, and Ben show off their dedication to Eagle football. These three showed what school spirit was all about.
