

• DADDY'S GIRL •

Jeni-Bruce Wilkes pins the yellow rose boutonniere on her dad's lapel just prior to the half-time festivities. Although this was an exciting time for the girls, many dads, like Joe, were saddened by the thought of their little girls growing up.

• How Bout You? •

The RWA student body lines up to support their football players as they run onto the field. The students at Richard Winn enjoyed dressing up and cheering for their team in every way.

• THE INTRODUCTION •

Senior Brittni Smith and her uncle, Bob Smith, make the walk onto the field following Brittni's introduction. Each participant sponsored a junior or senior football player and chose a male relative or family friend to escort her during the half-time ceremony.

• SIGN IN, PLEASE •

Mrs. Patti Coleman, Director of Development, encourages RWA alumni to sign in at the Alumni tent. Former football players and cheerleaders from the first football team (1977) were recognized and given special t-shirts to commemorate the 25th year of football at RWA.

• A PAIR OF QUEENS •

Morgan Parris gives newly crowned winner, Brittany Foster, a big congratulatory hug. Both girls have won the distinction of being crowned for both titles.
