

CAMPING

And Exploring at Camp Greenville

• SWING YOUR PARTNER •

When the students weren't hiking or looking at animals, they got a chance to show off their square dancing skills. Having had prior square dance experience, most of the students were happy to put their dancing skills to the test.

• IS THAT HISS SNAKE!?! •

Sub-Freshmen Adrian Wilkes and Michael Robinson pet and examine a corn snake during one of the discovering animal sessions. These exhibits gave the students a chance to gain knowledge of many of SC's wildlife.

• TIMEOUT •

The eighth grade class takes a quick break from their busy schedule to pose for a group picture in front of Rainbow Falls. The long hike to the waterfalls was one of the many outdoor adventures they enjoyed.

• LEARNIN' THE ROPES •

Anna Burns smiles for the camera while going through the high ropes course at Camp Greenville. As an accomplished gymnast Anna looked comfortable balancing on the narrow ropes and cables.
