CLASS HISTORY

COMPILED BY- WILL LEMMON

In 1989, six students started K-4 and our class was born. Since then many classmates have come and gone to become the 27 students you see here today. Throughout our 14 years at Richard Winn, there have been many memorable moments. I would like to recognize some of those moments that stand above the rest.

Many of our class's memories are from field trips. In one trip to the State House, my dad was a chaperone. As we were going there, Josh Allen was enjoying a nice breeze with his head sticking out the car window when all of a sudden the window rolled up and started choking him. It wasn't until Josh started making these horrible noises that my dad realized what he had done. Josh is notorious for his achievements in academics. He never gets to sit down at the Academic Banquets because someone is always sticking him with some award. In fact, he probably ran out of room to pin all of them on his sash tonight. Josh, along with Jae Burroughs, Joe Hodges, and Brooks Quinn, are all members of the White Oak Crew, being that they all work at the Conference Center. Jae is known for his other language. In our first year of Spanish, Jae couldn't pronounce the word "bueno," so he said "braino" instead. Recently, in one of Mr. Taylor's papers, Jae taught us the conjunction, "hafta." Jae can usually be found at White Oak or hanging out with his cousin, Joey Burroughs. Joey is known for his love of baseball, his skills at fishing, and his knowledge of auto mechanics. If you have car trouble, Joey can tell you what you did wrong, what he can do to fix it, and how much its going to cost. Robbie Huey is also known for his ability to fix things. While the rest of us are having class, Robbie can be found fixing a light bulb, working on the baseball field, replacing a broken desk, or changing the letters on the new sign. Ms. Reid said she might even put him on the pay roll next year. As accident-prone as Robbie is, he many not want to take up that offer. Soon after getting hit in the nose by a line drive baseball, Robbie further injured his nose by falling off a ladder while changing the sign. Both Robbie and Jennifer Eggers are from Chester. Jennifer came to Richard Winn last year and can be recognized by her loud voice, her strong southern accent, and how she is never afraid to express her opinion. She can usually be seen with her friend Heather Tolbert. When she is not with Jennifer, Heather is usually out with her boyfriend, Brent. Heather is one of those quiet girls, at least while she's at school. Another one of those quiet girls is Emily Young. After 14 years, Emily has come out of her shell and can be seen burning up the road in her '99 Mitsubishi Eclipse. Emily is seen so much with her best friend Mary Beth Parker that some people even think they are joined at the hips. Mary Beth has been given the nickname "Red" for her uniquely red hair. In the past year, she has been working for the Herald Independent as a typist. I guess learning to type in Mr. Fletcher's class wasn't meaningless after all. Another classmate that has been working for the newspaper is Jeni-Bruce Wilkes. Jeni-Bruce is a contributing writer for Richard Winn athletics. We all know the Herald Independent needs good writers. As long as I can remember, she has always wanted to be a teacher. Apparently she picked a good career because one day in Marine Science, Ms. Michelle Brown asked where Jeni-Bruce was and we had to tell her she was substitute teaching for the fifth grade. Jeni-Bruce and Kyle Byrd both live close to the school on Rabbit Run Road. Even though Kyle has settled down a bit over the years, he has been known to run a few rabbits out of the road with his fast driving. It would be a sad day for any animal: rabbit, squirrel, and deer, when Kyle is on the road with one of his Jeeps. Sam Arnette is known for having a Jeep. It is easy to recognize Sam's Jeep because of the blinding light reflected off his chrome rims and the ground-shaking sound from his set of three 12-inch speakers hooked up to his 1200-watt amplifier. Sam's speakers are so loud that he has had to replace his rear view mirror... twice. This year, during first period, you could either find Sam on the couch in the library or talking with his friends in the SAT Prep class, which were Casey Brazell, Joe Hodges, and Jeni-Bruce Wilkes. Casey is known for his musical talent. One time in Mrs. Allen's biology class, we were required to make up a song about facts regarding plants. Even though he didn't get an "A," because the lyrics were thrown together at the last minute, Casey dazzled us by playing his guitar. Casey can usually be found working with his fellow employee Gillian Simms at CVS. In third grade Casey and Brooks Quinn both received letters inviting them to join a beauty contest in Myrtle Beach. This came as a shock since both were 8-year-old boys. No one ever figured out why that happened. Brooks can usually be found playing through at the Fairfield Country Club golf course. He and Smith Harden were DJ's at all of our class-sponsored dances. Smith is know for providing comic relief to our everyday schoolwork. In order to win the postion of student body President, he demonstrated his dedication to Richard Winn by eating a live worm. As dedicated as Smith is, for the past two years he couldn't seem to finish off a basketball season. Even though Smith is recognized for his height (continued on top of next page...)
