

Learnin' the Ropes

WELCOME TO THE JUNGLE!

The eighth grade pauses for a good 'ol group picture with their counselors. The group had a great time bonding with each other on this trip.

WHY KNOT?

Sub-freshman Ashley Gantt and Courney Sink work together to tie knots to hold their logs together. This was but one of the many challenges they had to complete by working together.

TO TRUST OR NOT TO TRUST

Classmate Gracie Glover plays a game of trust with fellow classmates. Camp Greenville was a good experience for the students by helping them learn to work together and trust one another.

CIRCLE OF LIFE

A small group of the students works together to get the hula hoop ring through the sea of intertwined classmates. Camp Greenville helped them learn teamwork and cooperation skills.

SMILE

Another group of campers minute out of their busy day for a picture. All of their were ready for a good night after a strenuous action-pack of Camp Greenville.

Camp Greenville