

T ROPE?

Some of the students work diligently on group dynamics. This was one of the many challenging tasks they had to accomplish as a group.

Class of 2008

TIGHT ROPE WALKIN'?

Billy, and Grayson are among many who dared to take on this challenge. The high ropes course was indeed tricky and challenging.

AIN'T IT PRETTY?

After a long day of hiking, these students take a well-deserved break in front of "Rainbow Falls." This was one of the many beautiful sights that the class was able to enjoy.

THREE BLIND MICE & CO.

Along with group counselors, many of the eighth graders play a game of follow the leader. Blindfolded, they had to trust one another in order to complete this task successfully.

ROUND 'EM UP

One group stops along a trail long enough to relax and share experiences of the time together. This was another bonding opportunity for the group.

GIVE ME JUST A LITTLE MORE TIME

A group takes a break to rest after a long hike through nature. Some of the 8th graders had a much better appreciation of the beauty of nature after Camp Greenville.
