

It's All in the Effort

Middle School Boys Gain Experience

"Victory isn't defined by wins and losses. It is defined by effort. If you can truthfully say, 'I did the best I could, and I gave everything I had...' then you're a winner."
-Wolfgang Schadler-

© Grasping some Air ©

Coach Sink takes a time out for a talking to and a quick breather.

© Team on Three ©

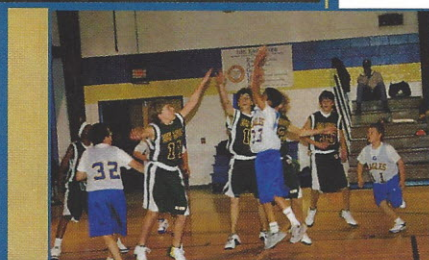

The team huddles at the end of a time out.

© Back Off! ©

Neeraj Singal protects the ball from the other player.

© Good Save ©

Myles Rowe saves the ball and then throws an amazing pass to Buchanan Coleman.

© Puttin' on the Move ©

Buchanan Coleman puts the move on the opposing player.

© Watch Me Now ©

Drew Maass shows off his spiffy dribbling skills as he works his way to the basket.

© Throwin' It Up ©

Jonathan Love reaches over an opponent's head to make a basket.

© Hold On for Dear Life ©

Willie Sprott holds on tight as the defenders try to steal the ball.

OPP. RWA

Newberry	21	17
Cardinal Newman	52	9
Laurens	47	17
Ben Lippen	62	8
Cardinal Newman	59	8
Catawba	30	17
Newberry	12	34
W. W. King	17	22
Ben Lippen	67	11
Camden Military	32	19
W. W. King	26	22
Camden Military	35	19
Laurens	43	18

2004 MIDDLE SCHOOL BOYS BASKETBALL TEAM

Kneeling: (l-r) Neeraj Singal, Levi Benson, Buchanan Coleman, Dillon Cail, Andy Taylor. Standing: Willie Sprott, Jonathan Love, Coach Jack Sink, Drew Maass, Myles Rowe. Not Pictured: Jordan Crawford & Zach Timme