1. Jill Wagers shows her serious approach to softball as she puts on her game face and comes to bat in the state playoff game against Holly Hill.
2. The duo of Brice Porter and Kasey Paris work well together as the team's first and second basemen.
3. While Michelle Jones spent most of the season behind the plate as the team's number one catcher, she also saw some action from the pitcher's mound.
4. While possibly deceived by her small frame, Shealy Broome proved to her opponents that her pitches were coming with heat and accuracy.

What superstitions or rituals do you have prior to playing a softball game?

Caroline McMeekin

"Our team has a pep talk right before every game. We always have to do it a certain way - feet up and the pitcher always puts her hands in first. The little ritual always pumps the team."

Kasey Paris

"I pick up the ball and toss it to Shealy in the pitcher's circle."

Shealy Broome

"I put my uniform on the same way before every game."
