

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas

RWA's annual Christmas Program took place on December 19, 2005. A collective effort by the entire student body, the program included performances by both lower school and middle school music classes and upper school Spanish students. A variety of music, both traditional and Hispanic accompanied the events of Jesus's birth, acted out by students from both the upper and lower schools.

Sing Along Song
Richard Winn graduates start to sing "Christmas is a Feeling" as other students and faculty join in.

Hoping for the Best
Mrs. Quijano watches in the background as her students sing and perform Spanish songs.

1. Lauren Irwin sings her heart out as she entertains her friends and family.
2. Some of the sophomore class recreate the nativity scene during the Spanish play.
3. Girls from grades 1-7 sing "Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer."
4. Mary, Cali Swearingen, and Joseph, Todd Johnson, bring the Nativity scene to life.
5. Collin Truesdale playing the Angel blesses Mary, Amelia Rosborough before she gives birth to the newborn infant.
