

Hippity Hop

The third grade has a good time while competing in the potato sack race against one another.

Hooping It Up

These second graders spin their hips, trying to get their hula hoop to stay afloat around their waist.

Steady Hands

Coker Gilbert concentrates as he tries his best to beat out his classmates to the finish line.

1. Sarah Coleman gets low in order to keep her hula-hoop spinning.
2. The first grade tries their best to beat their classmates in the "Buddy-Walkers."
3. Sarah Grier and Anna Grey get set to compete in the three-legged race.
4. Zach Burroughs assists Dru Talbert in the stilt walk on Field Day.
5. Bailey Taylor and Anna Connor take a time-out to share a close moment during the day.

Field Day 2006 on May 16 turned out to be a blast for everyone involved. Organized by Mrs. Carolyn Walters and sponsored by the PTO, the day featured fun and games for grades K through 5th. The middle school students enjoyed their own special Field Day with games and events organized by Coach Jack Sink. Ninth grade students helped make things run smoothly by manning the games. Parents, PTO members, and other volunteers served lunch to recharge the participants for the final event, the annual Tug-of-War competition.
