

Daniel Porter

It's hard to believe this year is here. Where did the time go, I have no idea.

Seems just yesterday I was watching you play T-Ball, look at you now so grown and tall.

As I sit and meditate with tears in my eyes, I realize the true meaning of "time really flies".

Just remember as you start each day, talk to God first; He will show you the way.

I love you,
Mom
