<< ...Like a Butterfly

Damon Ammons floats across the field from the sidelines as he recovers a stray pass. The baseball team challenged the soccer team to a soccer game in May. The soccer team won 1-0.

Prayerful Prelude >>

Parents, students, and faculty join hands in prayer. RWA hosted a prayer walk last August before school began to bless RWA in the forthcoming year.

<< In Loving Memory

Ryan Douglass, Mr. Thoma, and Coach Atkerson present Ally Douglass's jersey to be retired. Ally was loved and is missed by the entire RWA family.

<< Take a Bow!

Members of Mrs. Black's eleventh grade Honors English class take a bow after a student-produced performance of "The 10-Minute Hamlet". The short play was performed during the Literacy Fair in May, sponsored by the Academic Committee.

Members of the eighth grade class and parent/teacher volunteers work together to install a pond. The Class of 2012 constructed a butterfly garden by the science building in loving memory of those RWA students and faculty who have passed on.

God Bless America>>

Mr. Thoma stands with Reagan and Ryane Railey to accept an American flag flown in combat. Eddie Railey, their father, served in Operation Iraqi Freedom during the school year and donated the flag to the school.

<<To Learn Is to Teach

Junior Rachel Matthews instructs a group of lower school students on how to complete an activity. Mrs. Brown's biology class became teacher-for-a-day while helping raise awareness for Earth Day.

<< What's the Word?

Rotarians, Mr. Thoma and Mr. Caulder, pose with Mrs. Caldwell's third grade class and their new dictionaries. In keeping with this annual tradition, the Rotary Club donated a new dictionary to each student.
