

<< A Pledge of Excellence

New Beta Club members recite the club's pledge during the induction ceremony. Beta Club members exhibited excellence both in the classroom and in the community.

And the Winner Is...>>

Lower school students anxiously await the results of the costume contest held during the Literacy Fair. Each participant dressed as a character from her favorite book.

<< Formula for an A+

Senior Caroline McMeekin studies intently during a lab. Activities in the science lab gave students an opportunity to experience hands-on some of the many theories and principles they learned in class.

<< Hats Off!

The graduating class of 2008 takes a moment to celebrate an important rite of passage. RWA wishes them the best as they go on to become the future of our world.

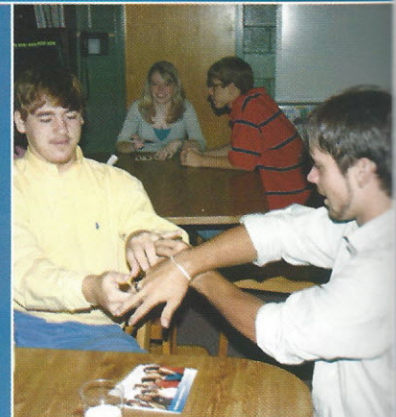

<< Movin' on Up!

Members of the sixth grade class pose with their "diplomas." By completing the sixth grade, they "graduated" from elementary school to middle school.

Do the Twist>>

Juniors Caleb Chapman and Thomas Wilkes simultaneously "turn rings." Turning rings is a part of the tradition of receiving class rings.

<< A Crowning Moment

Mr. Thoma, former Homecoming Queen Rebekah Harkins, former Sweetheart Frances Rutland, and crown bearers Emy Russell and Will Carvalho, eagerly await the big announcement. This event is always very climactic of the week-long Homecoming festivities.

<< A Few New Faces

New teachers and faculty members pose in front of the school. This year brought several new staff members, many of whom were first-year teachers.